Friends of AK

The Friends of AK Press is a subscription-based program that helps you contribute to the continued viability of anarchist publishing. For over a 150 years anarchist ideas have spread to the corners of the globe, challenging religious dogma, rallying against capitalism and statecraft, reinventing education, and advocating for a society based on mutual aid and social and economic freedom. Your kind contribution to AK Press will insure that our history is preserved, our critiques of contemporary society circulated, and that the future is informed and shaped by both. Please consider signing up today.

Let’s be perfectly honest, much of the literature we produce is not "economically viable" by traditional standards. But in a world of bailouts for the rich, bullets for the poor, and borders and walls to separate and divide, our books are more important than ever. Contributions from the Friends of AK Press greatly increase our ability to refute, to tell counter-narratives, and bolster our forces in the face of great odds.

Right now several exciting projects are nearly ready to be printed: David Graeber’s Direct Action: An Ethnography, the first detailed ethnographic study of the global justice movement; Anarchism and Its Aspirations, published in conjunction with the Institute for Anarchist Studies, is Cindy Milstein’s concise look at the history and possibilities of an anarchist future; Nunzio Pernicone’s Italian Anarchism, 1864–1892, as well as his Carlo Tresca: Portrait of a Rebel, a 20th anniversary edition of Seth Tobocman’s influential book You Don’t Have to Fuck People Over to Survive; Mythmakers and Lawbreakers: Anarchist Writers on Fiction, Margaret Killjoy’s collection of interviews, and many more…

Additional projects currently being worked on include: a Colin Ward reader; Global Fire, the follow-up to the popular Black Flame: The Revolutionary Class Politics of Anarchism and Syndicalism; Chris Ealham’s Anarchists in the City: Class, Culture, and Conflict in Barcelona 1898–1937, the first translation in English (running to eight volumes) of the complete works of Bakunin; Tom Wetzel’s exploration of anti-capitalist strategy and politics called Workers’ Liberation and Self-Management, an edited collection on gentrification and capitalism from Tom Wetzel, James Tracy, Guadalupe Arreola, and Alicia Schwartz; Ramor Ryan’s Zapatista Spring, a chronicle of the ups, downs, and in-betweens of international solidarity in the Zapatista rebel zone; a new Errico Malatesta collection; works by Uruguayan social theorist Raul Zibechi; and much more.

The Friends of AK Press is a way that you can directly help us to realize these and many more such projects, much faster. Friends pay of $25 per month (of course, we have no objection to larger sums) or $30 for people outside the US (to cover the difference in shipping costs). In return, Friends automatically receive, as they appear, one free copy of every new AK Press title. Also Friends are entitled to a 20% discount on everything featured in the AK Press Distribution catalog and on the website. We also have a program where groups or individuals can also sponsor a whole book. If you’d like to sign up, please fill out the form below or add it to your web-shopping cart. Bookmobile

AK Distribution does not and could not rely solely on traditional distribution through the booktrade (or the Internet). Chain bookstores are not comfortable with revolutionary, anti-authoritarian thought, and we can’t afford to buy space on their shelves anyway. Just as the DIY ethic enables the underground music scene to thrive against the bland, boring, sterile major airplay crap, the Bookmobile cruises past the corporate “book” stores and brings the books directly to the people. The Bookmobile is a network of tableers and activists around the country—there are bands, roadies, travelers, students, political groups—who are involved in this grassroots distribution. You can get together with others and table at local shows, rallies, marches, fairs, and clubs. Maybe tabling will evolve into a new infoshop, where folks can come face to face with books, zines, and CDs they’ll never see anywhere else.

If we don’t do what it takes to keep independent writing and reading alive, who will? If you want to get involved in your area, or table on your tour, get in touch. We’ll give you a discount, help you get set up, and list your tabling event(s) on the Bookmobile section of our website, which is updated regularly.

About AK Press

AK Press is a worker-run collective that publishes and distributes radical books, visual and audio media, and other mind-altering material. We’re small: a dozen people who work long hours for short money, because we believe in what we do. We’re anarchists, which is reflected both in the books we provide and in the way we organize our business. Decisions at AK Press are made collectively, from what we publish, to what we distribute and how we structure our labor. All the work, from sweeping floors to answering phones, is shared. When the telemarketers call and ask “who’s in charge?” the answer is: everyone.

Our goal isn’t profit (although we do have to pay the rent). Our goal is supplying radical words and images to as many people as possible. The books and other media we distribute are published by independent presses, not the corporate giants. We make them widely available to help you make positive (or, hell, revolutionary) changes in the world. As you probably know, the stuff we carry is less and less available from the corporate publishers and their chain stores.

The items in this catalog are available to bookstores, infoshops, rogue tablers, and individuals. While we try to keep all the items listed in stock, occasionally things go in and out of print or are temporarily unavailable—we apologize in advance for any inconvenience. All prices were correct when we went to print, but are subject to change. For the most current product info and to see the newest items (we update the website with new products weekly), check us out at www.akpress.org. While you’re there, check out the Bookmobile to see if AK Press will be in your neck of the woods soon, to sign up for our mailing lists for updates on new products and events, or to learn about Friends of AK Press.

What Do You Mean By “Anarchism?”

“Like all really good ideas,” writes Clifford Harper, “Anarchy is pretty simple when you get down to it—human beings are at their best when they are living free of authority, deciding things among themselves rather than being ordered about.” Anarchism means abolishing the state and all coercive social relations. It means a society in which individuals create and control their own collective organizations to meet their social and economic needs. These organizations would federate and democratically coordinate (rather than compete) among themselves without any government oversight. Some say that this is impossible, that without governmental authority we’d descend into violence, lawlessness, and corruption. But, look around: isn’t that pretty much what we have now? Government is a centralized force that imposes rules from above, suppressing individual initiative in the interests of a small minority. Capitalism is an economic system based on exploitation, private ownership (theft) of society’s resources, and a logic of ruthless competition. Rather than accept these human constructions as “natural,” AK Press draws on a rich history of folks from all over the planet and from all walks of life who have imagined, fought for, and actually achieved something better.

No government, “revolutionary” or otherwise, has ever liberated its citizens from gender, racial, or class oppression. No government has ever developed a model for an environmentally sustainable society. With a record like that, it’s strange that anyone still backs that particular horse. Back in the day, as socialist ideas were developing and confronting the emerging capitalist system, revolutionaries claimed that “the emancipation of the working class is the task of the workers themselves.” Anarchists still make that claim. We don’t advocate “no control,” but insist on asking “control by whom?” We work to destroy arbitrary power (political, economic, and social), to take decision-making power away from “officials,” while developing our ability to fill that void and provide for ourselves. “People’s governments” invariably become calcified and abandon the struggle for human freedom. This is why we identify with the liberatory strains within the history of socialism—the unbroken thread of impassioned resistance against both the terrors of capitalism and the tyranny of government.

Anarchism doesn’t tell people what to do. It tells them that they have the ability to make decisions about the issues that affect them. Anarchism, and the anarchist movement, is about emancipation, empowerment, and agency. Ask yourself this: what would your ideal transportation system, agricultural system, neighborhood, school, or workplace look like? Now ask yourself how much influence you and the people around you have over these issues? Can we afford to leave these decisions to the same people who have been screwing up our lives thus far?

Evolutionary biologist Stephen Jay Gould once wrote, “I am somehow less interested in the weight and convolutions of Einstein’s brain than in the near certainty that people of equal talent have lived and died in cotton fields and sweatshops.” The repressive hierarchies of capitalism and the state create human beings who are mere shells of what we could be, stunting us mentally, physically, and emotionally. Adding insult to injury, we’re then taught to blame ourselves for this situation, instead of looking for the institutional roots of our problems.

Because destroying one form of oppression only leaves the others to fester, anarchism tries to focus on all unequal power relations simultaneously. Capitalism and the state didn’t invent racism, patriarchy, or gender oppression, but they use a variety of divisive tactics to bolster our dependence on them. Understanding how oppressions are interconnected is an important step in overcoming them, as well as a way to practice freedom here and now, rather than delegating it to some distant future.

For us, anarchism is a practical framework for working out these issues. It’s a revolutionary analysis that helps us understand the roots of domination, both as individuals and as members of exploited social groups. It offers a useful and instructive history of theoretical and practical experimentation by people who have worked to expand the definition of freedom itself by fighting those who violently constrain and deny it.
What is a collective?

A collective is a group of individuals who work together on a common project without relying on internal hierarchies. Collectives can be large or small. They might exist temporarily or over long periods, and membership in them is voluntary. Any group—whether it’s a social club, NGO, or political organization—that has a board of directors, boss, manager, guru, or president is not a collective. In our current society, most formal organizations use a system of ranking that concentrates decision-making power in the hands of a minority that then uses this power to serve their own interests. This is exactly what collectives are designed to prevent.

In collectives, leadership happens naturally and fluidly. All skills and knowledge are shared, not hoarded by an elite. This means that duties and responsibilities can be rotated among a collective’s members and that they can be revoked if anyone starts abusing their power. This horizontal structure is a dynamic and vital way to constantly increase worker-empowerment.

The AK Press collective functions with a high level of organization and accountability. We work a minimum of forty hours per week, plus additional nights and weekends. We have regularly scheduled meetings to share information about the different aspects of our business so we can make collective decisions on a wide range of issues: the items we publish and distribute, our overall financial health, our political direction, the events we host and attend, the mutual aid we offer to other groups, and whatever else comes across our desks. However, we’re not a singularly focused or homogenous group. Right now, we’re very different individuals working together on a common project. That project thrives as much on our differences as on our similarities, as well as on the spirit of constant reflection and engagement with which we face each new challenge.

Isn’t an “anarchist business” an oxymoron?

There’s definitely something strange and contradictory about the concept of an anarchist business. AK Press works hard to destroy and move beyond capitalism, toward a non-exploitative, sustainable, and just economy. However, like it or not, capitalism is the only game in town at the moment. The paper that books are printed on, the building we work in, the packages we send and receive, the computers we use—all are the result of the exploited labor of the working class. Until we take power away from private economic tyrannies like corporations and investment groups, until we’re in control of our creative energies, almost every good or service we use or provide is administered by capitalism. AK Press doesn’t exist to enrich its members at the expense of consumers. We’re here to provide much needed tools for intellectual self-defense. When we call ourselves an “anarchist business” it’s with the full knowledge that the economy is not in our hands. Yet.

So what makes AK Press “anarchist”?

We operate without a corporate structure. No boss, no managers, no bullshit. We’ve replaced hierarchy with cooperation, accountability, and responsibility of our individual members. New ideas aren’t generated by specialists in air-conditioned offices, but in open meetings—where ideas are discussed freely and a course of action is decided democratically by everyone directly affected by the decision. How many sick days can we take? Should we carry the new South End Press book? What out-of-print anarchist classic should we make available again? Who will table at the New Orleans Bookfair? How can we increase the diversity of our collective and publishing list? We answer questions like this every day—dozens a week, hundreds a month. Sound tedious? Sound empowering? Sound exciting? It’s all that…and more. It’s our way of developing the skills necessary to administer our own work lives. It’s our way of creating the better world we carry in our hearts, and trying to live it in some small way while carrying on the legacy of those revolutionaries who came before us. Yes, we are continually battling the constraints of a market economy; but we’re also learning the pathway to autonomy, while challenging some of the most basic structures of capitalism. Freedom is a constant struggle.

While each of us has our own definition of anarchism, they overlap in enough ways to maintain our common project. At the same time, we understand that the anarchist movement is made up of many historical and contemporary strands, whether they call themselves “anarchist,” or “socialist,” or refuse labels altogether. We don’t have a problem spreading the ideas of people with whom we don’t always see eye-to-eye. No idea is so infallible that it can’t be examined, questioned, and debated. Humans have self-organized since the dawn of recorded time, in varying ways, with varied results. We strive to abolish the systems that control and separate us, and try to draw important lessons from these struggles so that we can all move forward together.

A key component of our struggle is the sharing of knowledge, history, and information. Through our publishing and distribution efforts, we see ourselves as part of a long tradition of getting the word out by any means necessary. In many historical periods, books, pamphlets, and other forms of written communication were clandestine, relying on networks of individuals keeping revolutionary ideas alive with secret printing presses, tattered facsimiles, and underground distribution systems. Our mission is to keep circulating these important texts, while producing new analyses and documenting the history of our struggle as it unfolds. We’re proud to call ourselves propagandists and hope that the materials we provide both agitate and provoke.

AK Press es un colectivo de trabajadores que publica y distribuye libros y medios audiovisuales libertarios, y otros materiales alteradores de la conciencia. Somos un pequeño grupo: una docena de personas que trabajan muchas horas por poco dinero, porque creemos en lo que hacemos. Somos anarquistas, lo que se refleja tanto en los libros que tenemos disponibles como en el modo en que organizamos nuestro trabajo. Las decisiones en AK Press son tomadas colectivamente, desde lo que publicamos hasta lo que distribuimos y cómo estructuramos nuestro labor. Todo el trabajo, desde trapear los pisos hasta responder las llamadas telefónicas, es compartido. Cuando los teleoperadores llaman y preguntan, “¿quién está a cargo?” la respuesta es: todos y todas. Nuestra meta no es el lucro (aunque si tenemos que pagar la renta). Nuestra meta es entregar palabras e imágenes libertarias a la mayor cantidad de gente posible. Los libros y otros medios que distribuimos son publicados por editoriales independientes, no por los gigantes corporativos. Los ponemos a tu disposición para que hagas cambios positivos (o, qué diablos, ¡revolucionarios!) en el mundo. Como probablemente sabes, las cosas que distribuimos están cada vez menos disponibles en las editoriales corporativas y sus cadenas comerciales.

Los materiales de este sitio web y de nuestro catálogo están disponibles para librerías, infoshops, ferias e individuos. Aunque intentamos mantener el catálogo actualizado, ocasionalmente algunas cosas salen de stock y no están disponibles por un tiempo –nos disculpamos de antemano por cualquier inconveniente. Todos los precios están sujetos a cambio. Para ver la información de los productos más actuales y ver los artículos más nuevos (actualizamos el sitio web con nuevos productos cada semana), chequea nuestra página de Nuevas Ediciones. Mientras estés en nuestro sitio, revisa el Bookmobile para ver si AK Press estará en tu área pronto, apúntate en nuestras listas de correo para recibir actualizaciones de nuevos productos y eventos, o averigua más sobre los Amigos de AK Press.

¿A qué se refieren con “Anarquismo”?

“Como todas las buenas ideas”, escribe Clifford Harper, “la Anarquía es bastante simple cuando intentas entenderla - lo mejor de los seres humanos surge cuando viven libres de la autoridad, decidiendo las cosas entre ellos en vez de recibir órdenes.” El anarquismo implica la abolición del Estado y de todas las relaciones sociales coercitivas. Implica una sociedad en la que los individuos crean y controlan sus propias organizaciones colectivas para suplir sus necesidades económicas y sociales. Estas organizaciones se federarían y coordinarían democráticamente (en vez de competir) entre ellas sin ningún tipo de supervisión gubernamental. Algunos dicen que esto es imposible, que sin autoridad de gobierno todo terminaría en violencia, corrupción e inseguridad. Pero, mira a tu alrededor: ¿no es acaso eso mismo lo que tenemos hoy? El gobierno es una fuerza centralizada que impone reglas desde arriba, suprimiendo la iniciativa individual en beneficio de una pequeña minoría. El capitalismo es un sistema económico basado en la explotación, la propiedad privada (robo) de los recursos de la sociedad, y una lógica de competencia despiadada. En vez de aceptar estas construcciones como “naturales”, AK Press se inspira en una rica historia de gentes que, viendo de todos los rincones del planeta y de todos los oficios, han imaginado y peleado por algo mejor, y que de hecho lo han logrado.

Ningún gobierno, “revolucionario” o no, ha liberado alguna vez a sus ciudadanos de la opresión de género, raza o clase. Ningún gobierno ha desarrollado alguna vez un modelo de sociedad ambientalmente sustentable. Con esos antecedentes, es extraño que alguien todavía apueste por este caballo. En esos días en que las ideas socialistas se desarrollaban y confrontaban el incipiente sistema capitalista, los revolucionarios afirmaron que “la emancipación de la clase obrera debe ser obra de los obreros mismos.” Los anarquistas todavía afirmamos lo mismo. No abogamos por el “no control”, sino que insistimos en preguntarnos “¿quién tiene el control?” Trabajamos para destruir el poder arbitrario (político, económico y social), para quitarles a los “funcionarios” el poder de tomar decisiones, al mismo tiempo que desarrollamos nuestra capacidad para llenar ese vacío y abastecernos. Los “gobiernos populares” se calcifican invariablemente y abandonan la lucha por la libertad humana. Este es el motivo por el que nos identificamos con las tendencias libertarias de la historia del socialismo—esa ininterrumpida línea de resistencia apasionada contra los terrores del capitalismo y la tiranía del gobierno.

El anarquismo no le dice a la gente lo que tiene que hacer. Le dice que tiene la capacidad de tomar decisiones sobre los asuntos que le conciernen. El anarquismo, y el movimiento anarquista, se dan cuenta de la emancipación, el empoderamiento y la capacidad de actuar. Hazte la siguiente pregunta: ¿cómo sería tu sistema ideal de transporte o de agricultura, tu barrio, escuela o lugar de trabajo ideal? Ahora pregúntate ¿cuánta influencia tienes tú y la gente a tu alrededor sobre estos temas? ¿Podemos darnos el lujo de dejar estas decisiones a aquellos que han estado jodiendo nuestras vidas hasta ahora?

El biólogo evolucionista Stephen Jay Gould escribió una vez, “de alguna manera, estoy menos interesado en el peso y las circunvoluciones del cerebro de Einstein que en la casi certeza de que personas con el mismo talento han vivido y muerto en campos de algodón y talleres de explotación.” Las jerarquías represivas del capitalismo y el Estado crean seres humanos que son meras cáscaras de lo que podríamos ser, aturdidos por la mental, física y emocionalmente. Para colmo, se nos enseña luego que debemos culparnos por esta situación, en vez de mirar hacia las raíces institucionales de nuestros problemas.

Destruir solamente una forma de opresión sólo causa que las otras se intensifiquen, y por eso el anarquismo intenta enfocarse en todas las relaciones de poder desiguales al mismo tiempo. El capitalismo y el Estado no inventaron el racismo, el patriarcado o la opresión de género, pero usan una variedad de tácticas divisivas para reforzar nuestra dependencia de ellos. Comprender cómo están vinculadas las opresiones es un paso importante para superarlas, así como una forma de practicar la libertad aquí y ahora, en vez de relegarla a algún futuro distante.

Para nosotros el anarquismo es un esquema práctico para trabajar estos asuntos. Es un análisis revolucionario que nos ayuda a entender las raíces de la dominación, como individuos y como miembros de grupos sociales explotados. Nos ofrece una útil e instructiva historia de experimentación teórica y práctica llevada a cabo por gente que ha trabajado para expandir la definición misma de la libertad, luchando contra aquellos que la construyen y niegan violentamente.
¿Qué es un colectivo?

Un colectivo es un grupo de individuos que trabajan juntos en un proyecto común sin apoyarse en jerarquías internas. Los colectivos pueden ser grandes o pequeños. Pueden existir temporalmente o por largos periodos, y la participación en ellos es voluntaria. Cualquier grupo - ya sea un club social, una ONG o una organización política - que tenga un directorio, un jefe, un gerente, un gurú o un presidente, no es un colectivo. En nuestra sociedad actual, la mayoría de las organizaciones formales utilizan un sistema de rangos que concentra el poder de decisión en las manos de una minoría que luego usa este poder para servir a sus propios intereses. Los colectivos están diseñados para prevenir justamente esto.

En los colectivos, el liderazgo es algo que ocurre de manera natural y fluida. Todas las habilidades y conocimientos son compartidos, no acumulados por una elite. Esto significa que las tareas y las responsabilidades pueden rotar entre los miembros del colectivo y que estas pueden ser revocadas si alguien empieza a abusar de su poder. Esta estructura horizontal es una forma dinámica y vital para aumentar constantemente el empuoderamiento laboral.

El colectivo AK Press funciona con un alto nivel de organización y responsabilidad. Trabajamos un mínimo de 40 horas a la semana, además de algunas noches y fines de semana. Tenemos reuniones regulares para compartir información acerca de los diferentes aspectos de nuestro negocio con el fin de poder tomar decisiones colectivas sobre un amplio rango de asuntos: los títulos que publicamos y distribuimos, nuestra salud financiera general, nuestra dirección política, los eventos que organizamos y a los que asistimos, el apoyo mutuo que ofrecemos a otros grupos, y cualquier otro tema que se ponga sobre nuestra mesa. Sin embargo, no somos un grupo homogéneo o con un enfoque único. En este momento somos doce individuos bastante diferentes que trabajamos en un proyecto común. Ese proyecto prospera gracias a nuestras diferencias tanto como a nuestras similitudes, así como gracias al espíritu de reflexión y compromiso constante con el que enfrentamos cada nuevo desafío.

¿No es un oxímoron hablar de “negocio anarquista”?

Hay algo definitivamente extraño y contradictorio en el concepto de negocio anarquista. AK Press trabaja duro para destruir el capitalismo e ir más allá hacia una economía justa, sustentable y no explotadora. Sin embargo, lo queramos o no, el capitalismo es el único juego en curso por el momento. El papel en el que se imprimen los libros, el edificio en el que trabajamos, los paquetes que enviamos y recibimos, los computadores que usamos - todo es resultado del trabajo explotado de la clase obrera. Hasta que le quitemos el poder a las tiranías económicas privadas como las corporaciones y los grupos de inversión, hasta que tengamos el control de nuestras energías creativas, la mayoría de los bienes y servicios que usemos o prestemos serán administrados por el capitalismo. AK Press no existe para enriquecer a sus miembros a costa de los consumidores. Estamos aquí para entregar algunas herramientas para la auto-defensa intelectual, que hacen mucha falta. Cuando decimos que somos un “negocio anarquista”, lo hacemos con plena conciencia de que la economía no está en nuestras manos. Todavía.

Entonces, ¿qué es lo que hace que AK Press sea “anarquista”?

Funcionamos sin una estructura corporativa. No hay jefes, no hay gerentes, no hay esas mierdas. Hemos reemplazado la jerarquía con la cooperación, el compromiso de responder ante los demás y la responsabilidad de nuestros miembros. Las nuevas ideas no son generadas por expertos en oficinas con aire acondicionado, sino en reuniones abiertas - en las que las ideas son discutidas libremente y en las que todos los implicados directamente en la decisión definen un plan de acción de manera democrática. ¿Cuántos días de licencia médica nos podemos tomar? ¿Deberíamos distribuir ese nuevo libro de South End Press? ¿Cuál clásico anarquista deberíamos volver a imprimir? ¿Quién pondrá la mesa de distribución en la feria del libro de Nueva Orleans? ¿Cómo podemos aumentar la diversidad de nuestro colectivo y de nuestras publicaciones? Respondemos preguntas como estas cada día - docenas a la semana, cientos al mes. ¿Sueña tedioso? ¿Sueña a empoderamiento? ¿Sueña fascinante? Es todo eso... y más. Es nuestra manera de desarrollar las capacidades para administrar nuestras propias condiciones laborales. Es nuestra manera de crear ese mundo mejor que llevamos en nuestros corazones, y de intentar vivirlo de cierto modo al tiempo que asumimos el legado de esos revolucionarios que nos precedieron. Si, estamos luchando constantemente contra las limitaciones de la economía de mercado, pero también estamos descubriendo el camino hacia la autonomía, a la vez que desafiamos algunas de las estructuras más básicas del capitalismo. La libertad es una lucha constante.

Aunque cada uno de nosotros tiene su propia definición del anarquismo, se superponen en suficientes puntos como para hacer que el nuestro siga siendo un proyecto común. Al mismo tiempo, comprendemos que el movimiento anarquista está hecho de muchas corrientes históricas y contemporáneas, ya sea que se hagan llamar “anarquistas” o “socialistas”, o se rehúsen a las etiquetas. No tenemos problemas con difundir las ideas de personas con las que no estamos siempre de acuerdo. Ninguna idea es tan infalible que no puede ser examinada, cuestionada y debatida. Los humanos se han auto-organizado desde el inicio de los tiempos, de diversas maneras, con variados resultados. Luchamos por abolir los sistemas que nos controlan y separan, e intentamos sacar importantes lecciones de estas luchas de modo que podamos avanzar todos juntos.

Un componente clave de nuestra lucha está en compartir el conocimiento, la historia y la información. Mediante nuestros esfuerzos de publicación y distribución, nos sentimos parte de una larga tradición de difusión de la idea por los medios que sean necesarios. En muchos periodos históricos, los libros, panfletos y otras formas de comunicación escrita fueron clandestinos, lo que hacía necesaria la existencia de redes de individuos que mantuvieran con vida las ideas revolucionarias con imprentas secretas, facsímiles andrajosos y sistemas de distribución subterránea. Nuestra misión es hacer que estos textos sigan circulando, produciendo a la vez nuevos análisis, y documentando la historia de nuestra lucha a medida que se despliega. No es posible que tengamos conocimiento del pasado, pero si podemos aprender de él. Hay que luchar por confluir con el pasado. Entonces, ¿qué es lo que hace que AK Press sea “anarquista”? ¿No es un oxímoron hablar de “negocio anarquista”? ¿Qué es lo que hace que AK Press sea “anarquista”?

The Green Zone

The Environmental Costs of Militarism

Barry Sanders

“Here’s the awful truth: even if every person, every automobile, and every factory suddenly emitted zero emissions, the earth would still be headed, head first and at full speed, toward total disaster for one major reason. The military produces enough greenhouse gases, by itself, to place the entire globe, with all its inhabitants large and small, in the most immanent danger of extinction.”

—from the Introduction

This new investigation by Barry Sanders examines in detail the environmental impact of US military practices. In a period of unprecedented scrutiny of the social and economic impacts of the US defense policies, Sanders explores a completely different aspect of the situation, declaring military activity, from fuel emissions to radioactive waste to defoliation campaigns, as the single greatest contributor to the worldwide environmental crisis. Includes a powerful forward by Mike Davis.

Barry Sanders is a Fulbright Senior Scholar Grant recipient, has been nominated twice for the Pulitzer Prize, and is the author of eleven books, including A is for Ox: Violence, Electronic Media, and the Silencing of the Written Word and Sudden Glory: Laughter as Subversive History.

Arm the Spirit

A Woman’s Journey Underground and Back

Diana Block

“In a nation like the United States, where history is not only forgotten, but intentionally suppressed, it is no surprise that most US residents do not understand that Puerto Rico is a colony of Washington. Consequently, it is also no surprise that very few people in the US know about the movement against Washington’s colonization and for Puerto Rican independence…. Diana Block’s Arm the Spirit will open their eyes to the reality that existed within Ronald Reagan’s morning in America.”—Ron Jacobs, author of The Way the Wind Blew

In 1985, Diana Block, her two-week-old son, and five companions were forced to flee Los Angeles after finding a surveillance device in their car. What followed was a decade spent underground, moving from city to city, changing identities, and staying one step ahead of a government that hoped to persecute them for their activities on behalf of the Puerto Rican independence movement.

A personal memoir and political history rolled into one, Arm the Spirit is a stunning indictment of the effects of US imperialism, and a celebration of the community-based collectives that struggled against it.

A feminist agitator and a member of the Prairie Fire Organizing Committee in the 1970s, Diana Block has been an activist for over forty years.
Black Flame

_The Revolutionary Class Politics of Anarchism and Syndicalism_

Lucien van der Walt and Michael Schmidt

“This book fulfills a daunting task. Covering anarchism in all parts of the world and emphatically tying it to class struggle, the authors present a highly original and challenging account of the movement, its actions and ideas. This work is a must for everybody interested in nonauthoritarian social movements.”

—Bert Altena, Rotterdam University

Black Flame (Counter-Power, Volume 1) is the first of a two-volume set examining the democratic class politics of the worldwide anarchist movement, its vision of a decentralized planned economy, and its impact on popular struggles on five continents over the course of the past 150 years. From anarchism's first glimmers as a nineteenth-century ideology to today's anticapitalist struggles, Black Flame traces anarchism's lineage and contemporary relevance, outlining the movement's insights into questions of race, gender, class, and imperialism.

Michael Schmidt and Lucien van der Walt, both writers and activists in South Africa, have begun what promises to be the definitive synthetic account of the international anarchist tradition. Nearly exhaustive in scope, and rigorous in its scholarly detail, this first volume significantly reframes the work of previous historians and examines coherent alternatives to Marxist and nationalist approaches to revolutionary theory and practice.

_The Story of Class Violence in America_

Louis Adamic

“Louis Adamic is the forgotten Boswell of early Los Angeles, perhaps the first writer to tune himself into the then-youthful city and report back…. He’s a writer who demands our attention.”—_The Los Angeles Times_

As its title suggests, _Dynamite_ refuses to sugarcoat the explosive and bloody legacy of the US labor movement. Louis Adamic is clear that the causes of class violence lie with both the nature of capitalism and the specific policies of US industrialists, but he offers no apologies for the violent tactics workers employed in response. When peaceful strikes failed to yield results, working men and women fought back by any means necessary. The violent methods they used were often the only way that social injustices—from “ordinary” exploitation to massacres and judicial murder—could become visible, let alone be addressed.

This AK Press edition of Adamic's revised 1934 version of _Dynamite_, includes a new foreword by professor and labor organizer Jon Bekken, who offers a critical overview of the work and underlines its contemporary relevance.

Louis Adamic emigrated from Slovenia when he was fifteen years old and quickly joined the American labor force. He went on to receive a Guggenheim fellowship, and is now recognized as a great figure in early twentieth-century American literature. He was found shot to death in a burning farmhouse in 1954.
A History of the French Anarchist Movement, 1917–1945

Stuart Christie

"An extremely valuable resource...Berry's history is meticulously researched and finely documented. It is a work that, while rooted in specific movements in a specific period in time speaks to contemporary and indeed ongoing concerns facing anarchists in the complexly and rapidly developing era of neo-liberal globalization."—Social Anarchism

David Berry’s History of the French Anarchist Movement is the first English-language evaluation of the development of the French anarchist movement between the world wars. Utilizing an impressive array of archival sources and personal interviews, Berry’s original research explores the debates and growing pains of a large, working-class movement facing great obstacles. Focusing on the organized wings of the movement—the anarcho-communist and syndicalist groups—it offers a ringside seat to the legacy of the First International, the upheaval of the Russian Revolution and subsequent Bolshevik treachery, as well as the fight against fascism.

Dave Berry has been active on the Left in one way or another for over 30 years, most recently in the local branch of his union. He teaches French and politics at Loughborough University. A founding member of the Anarchist Studies Network, he is also reviews editor of the journal Anarchist Studies.

We, the Anarchists!

A Study of the Iberian Anarchist Federation (FAI) 1927–1937

Stuart Christie

Christie’s polemic underscores a great truth about the struggle against fascism: There is no middle ground. You may either resist fascism with all your might, or fall into the same abyss yourself.”—Rain Taxi

At last. A serious examination of the legendary FAI. And hence, by necessity, a history and analysis of the organized anarchist movement in Spain, and its relationship with the wider labor movement. By far the best book on the subject, author and activist Stuart Christie is ruthless in his examination—from an anarchist perspective—of the theory, and practice of this loose-knit group of anarchist militants.

A gripping tale and informative historical corrective, Christie’s book jumps out of history with lessons for contemporary organizations and individuals struggling for social and economic change.

Stuart Christie is co-founder of the Anarchist Black Cross, Black Flag magazine, and Cienfuegos Press; author of numerous books, including Granny Made Me an Anarchist; and currently publishes books and films through Christie Books. He was imprisoned in 1964 for attempting to assassinate Spanish Dictator Francisco Franco.
Shutdown

The Rise and Fall of Direct Action to Stop the War

The Sticks and Stones Video Collective

"Re-creating the fervor of the era… Shutdown may inspire some to take to the streets again."—SF Weekly

“Shutdown does exactly what I expect any good activist documentary to do. It gives props to our hard won victories and gives time and space to figure out our failures.”—Left Turn Magazine

March 20, 2003: The city of San Francisco grinds to a halt as thousands of activists flood the financial district to demand an end to the war in Iraq. Months of planning, outreach, organizing, and campaigning by members of SF-based Direct Action to Stop the War coaxed more than 15,000 people into the streets…but in the end, neither DASW nor the mass resistance outlasted the occupation of Iraq.

This powerful new documentary from AK Press Video and the Sticks and Stones Video Collective combines detailed information on organizing for a mass action, critical interviews on organizing pitfalls, and the wisdom of hindsight. It’s a must-see film for those engaged in the continuous struggle for social justice.

An Anarchist FAQ

Volume 1

Iain McKay

"An impressively thorough and ‘reader friendly’ body of work which is very highly recommended for personal, community, and academic library collections.”—Midwest Book Review

A decade after its first beginnings on the web, the exhaustive and indispensable Anarchist FAQ is now available in print form!

This new volume, the first of two, seeks to provide answers for the curious and critical about anarchist theory, history, and practice. More a reference volume than a primer, the FAQ eschews curt answers and engages with questions in a thorough, matter-of-fact style. Educational and fascinating, An Anarchist FAQ belongs on the bookshelf of every reader curious about the history and development of anarchist politics.

Iain McKay is former editor of Black Flag magazine and is a frequent contributor to Anarcho-Syndicalist Review. He lives in Glasgow, Scotland.
Abolition Now!

Ten Years of Strategy and Struggle Against the Prison Industrial Complex

Kevin Gray

The CR10 Publications Collective

“For those of us who did not make it to Critical Resistance’s tenth anniversary conference, Abolition Now! is one way to bring the discourse and vision of Critical Resistance to our own lives and work.”— Feminist Review

“Prison-related issues are inseparable from racism, classism, sexism, and all oppression, so the more we know about prisons, the better informed multi-issue activist strategies will be…. In working to abolish all oppression, we must also work to abolish the PIC and free all political prisoners.”— Z Magazine

Published in honor of the tenth anniversary of Critical Resistance, Abolition Now! collects reflections, analysis, strategies, and organizing plans, all outlining the history and the future of the struggle to abolish the prison industrial complex. With contributions from INCITE co-founder Andrea Smith, Mills College professor Julia Sudbury, activist and political prisoner David Gilbert, and former political prisoner and George Jackson Brigade veteran Bo Brown, among others, Abolition Now! reflects the call to Dismantle, Change, and Build. It presents bold strategies to create a stronger movement of people committed to PIC abolition and build healthy communities free from surveillance, policing, and imprisonment.

Waiting for Lightning to Strike

The Fundamentals of Black Politics

Kevin Gray

The year that saw an African-American become President for the first time in US history also witnessed a truly remarkable silence—one that was scarcely coincidental. In all the millions of words written about a political ascent of one black man, there was virtually nothing about the descent of black leadership into well-nigh total ineffectiveness. Barack Obama’s personal itinerary was mapped in minutest detail. The larger itinerary of African Americans was mostly ignored.

In Waiting for Lightning to Strike, Kevin Gray’s take is radical…so his focus is always agile and humane. In these passionate pages, he takes his readers into areas of darkness—South Carolina’s heritage of slavery, for example—and into the vibrancy and heat of James Brown and Richard Pryor. In essays like “Why Does Barack Obama Hate My Family?” and “Dixie 101,” Gray’s intellectual footwork is as sure as Muhammad Ali’s in his prime, and the knockout is as deadly.

No one should venture a mile into the rough terrain of black politics and culture in America today without reading Gray’s Waiting for Lightning to Strike. There’s no keener mind, no sharper eye focused on the condition of black politics.
In a time when everything seems to be regulated, controlled, and monitored, Yellowstone Drift is a refreshing and often exhilarating look at the natural wonder of Montana’s Yellowstone River.

High above sea level in the mountains of the Yellowstone National Park plateau, the river tumbles and rushes down to the Paradise Valley just north of Livingston, Montana, before meandering through the northern high plains for well over five hundred serpentine miles to its confluence with the Missouri River in North Dakota. Each chapter of Yellowstone Drift chronicles a leg of John Holt’s journey down the river, promising that the reader doesn’t miss a single mile of natural beauty.

Holt, in his customary free-form, anecdotal style and oblique vision, takes the reader on a wild ride down this natural treasure, examining the wildlife, the people, the fishing, and the river itself.

John Holt is the author of fourteen books including Coyote Nowhere: In Search of America’s Last Frontier, Hunted: A Novel, and Chasing Fish Tales. He resides in Livingston, Montana with his wife, a photographer, Ginny.

Spell Albuquerque
Memoir of a “Difficult” Student
Tennessee Reed

“Reed writes with clarity, wit, and wonder—and with an open-hearted passion that disarms, refreshes, and delights.”—Al Young, author of Something About the Blues

“I’m not like them,” Tennessee Reed would tell her teachers to get them to see that the approach they used for students with “normal” brains didn’t always work for her.

The daughter of writer/choreographer Carla Blank and novelist Ishmael Reed, Tennessee was diagnosed at an early age with several language-based learning disorders. The bottom line, the experts agreed, was that she would never read or write. Within a few years, however, she published her first book of poetry. By the time she was a teenager, she was writing the text for Meredith Monk performances and traveling the world to read her poems. Spell Albuquerque is an inspiring memoir of a young woman’s struggle to overcome racism and institutional authority and to achieve what everyone said was impossible.

Tennessee Reed is the author of five books of poetry, including City Beautiful, Airborne, and Electric Chocolate. She is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley, and has a master’s degree from Mills College.
Direct Action: An Ethnography
David Graeber

A magisterial new work from anarchist anthropologist David Graeber: the first detailed ethnographic study of the global justice movement. Graeber deftly applies ethnographic methods to the analysis of social justice organizing, focusing specifically on the lead-up to the 2001 Summit of the Americas in Québec City, one of the most dramatic and militant mass protests in recent years.

A Living Revolution: Anarchism in the Kibbutz Movement
James Horrox

James Horrox explores the foundations of the kibbutz movement, providing a detailed look at its early economic, social, and political organization. A Living Revolution uncovers a deep, explicitly anarchist strain running through the movement. This book illuminates a neglected aspect of Jewish history, taking serious issue with Marxists and other historians who see the kibbutzim primarily as progenitors of the Israeli State.

Anarchism and Its Aspirations
Cindy Milstein

From 19th-century newspapers to the recent Greek uprising, anarchists have long been incited to action by the ideal of a “free society of free individuals”—a transformed world in which people and communities relate to each other intentionally and without hierarchy or domination. But what exactly would that look like and how can we get there? Cindy Milstein explores the history and possibilities of an anarchist future.

Mythmakers & Lawbreakers: Anarchist Writers on Fiction
Margaret Killjoy, ed.; with an introduction by Kim Stanley Robinson

Sci-fi/fantasy powerhouses Ursula K. LeGuin, Alan Moore, Michael Moorcock, and Lewis Shiner join activist authors Derrick Jensen, Starhawk, Cristy C. Road, and a variety of other up-and-coming young writers in a series of interviews that explore fiction’s deeply political roots. Edited and compiled by SteamPunk Magazine’s Margaret Killjoy, with an original introduction by Kim Stanley Robinson.

A Poetics of Resistance:
The Revolutionary PR of the Zapatista Insurgency
Jeff Conant

Part literary criticism, part media analysis, and part marketing handbook, A Poetics of Resistance explores the varied elements of poetics and symbolism that have helped Zapatismo emerge as something entirely new: a resolutely radical public relations campaign for human liberation.

Sparking a Worldwide Energy Revolution:
Social Struggles in the Transition to a Post-Petrol World
Kolya Abramsky, ed.

As the Earth’s carrying capacity continues to be stressed, the question of renewable energies is no longer whether, but when and by whom. Climate change and peak oil have hit the mainstream. This new collection edited by Kolya Abramsky shows how addressing these challenges requires an analysis of our economic priorities.

War of the Worlds: How the Economy Was Lost
Paul Craig Roberts

The US economy has disintegrated, and with it into the abyss plummet the blueprints of neoliberal economists, whose theories about “the free market” have now gone the way of medieval alchemy. And no voice has been stronger, no prose more forceful, than that of Paul Craig Roberts in predicting collapse. Amid crisis, this is the guide to the economy you’ve been waiting for.

You Don’t Have to Fuck People Over to Survive
Seth Tobocman

New York, 1989: as a decade of activism around the urban housing crisis and beyond comes to a close, legendary graphic artist Seth Tobocman is there to document it all in his bold comic style. You Don’t Have to Fuck People Over to Survive is a candid portrait of a decade of struggle to preserve basic human rights and build a better world, and demands a place on the shelf of every historian of urban struggle.
Written with humor and based on extensive research and real life experimentation, this book delivers sound advice for parents of all stripes. It provides clever, hip, and entertaining tips, anecdotes, political analyses, and factual sidebars that will help parents navigate the first years of their child’s life.

In August 1907, Amsterdam hosted an international anarchist congress with delegates from fourteen different countries. Over the space of a week, it dealt with questions such as anti-militarism, anarchism and organization, anarchism and the workers’ movement, syndicalism and the general strike, etc. A century later, the debates have lost none of their value and serve as an excellent point of reference for all those today who facing similar situations and asking the same questions.

ANTILIFE, Allan
Unleashing the Imagination: An Anarchist Tour of the National Gallery of Canada
$3.00 • pam • Exile infoshop
No ISBN

Unleashing the Imagination details the lives and art of several anarchists whose works are featured in the National Gallery of Canada’s permanent collection. It gives an account of their lengthy political and social involvements with groups established along anarchist principles of voluntary-association, egalitarianism, mutual aid, and the refusal of authority. Some of the individuals included in this pamphlet are Marcel Duchamp, Gustav Courbet, Camille Pissarro, Francis Picabia, Bartlett Newman, and Les Automatistes.

ARCHIBALD, Malcolm
Atamansha: The Story of Maria Nikiforova — The Anarchist Joan of Arc
$8.75 • pb • Black Cat Press
9780973782707

The Ukrainian anarchist Maria Nikiforova (1885–1919) rose from the slums of industrial Alexandrovsk to become a ferocious terrorist and military commander who sacrificed everything for the cause of the Russian Revolution. A terrorist from the age of sixteen, she fought for freedom of the oppressed on three continents and ended up on trial for her life on at least four occasions. Once a nationally famous revolutionary, noted for her oratorical and martial skills as well as her implacable hatred of the bourgeoisie, her story was suppressed and forgotten for decades. Only in the last ten years has there been a revival of interest in her life.

AVRICH, Paul
Sacco and Vanzetti: The Anarchist Background
$26.95 • pb • Princeton University Press
9780691030406

A thoroughly-researched and extremely readable book on the two most famous anarchist illegitimates in US history. Avrich is not so much concerned with the already well-discussed issue of innocence or guilt as with the men themselves, the milieu in which they were active, and the police plots and subterfuge that attempted to destroy the anarchist movement. An excellent contribution to working class- and class struggle history.

AZAROV, V.
Kontrrazvedka: The Story of the Makhnovist Intelligence Service
$14.00 • pb • Black Cat Press
9780973782712

The Makhnovist movement was an attempt by peasants in southeastern Ukraine to create an anarchistic society in 1917–1921. This unique social experiment embraced a substantial territory with a population of millions, but has been insufficiently studied by historians. In the years of revolution and civil war, the movement was protected from its numerous enemies by a remarkable military force—the Insurgent Army—and by an intelligence service—the Kontrrazvedka. It is the latter institution that is the subject of this study by Vyacheslav Azarov, a present-day Ukrainian anarchist.

GORDON, Uri
Anarchy Alive!: Anti-Authoritarian Politics from Practice to Theory
$14.95 • pb • Autonomedia
9781570271816

Anarchist politics are at the heart of today’s most vibrant and radical social movements. Anarchy Alivel is a fascinating, in-depth look at the practice and theory of anarchism—addressing some of the most tense debates in the contemporary movement, including discussions of leadership, violence, technology, and nationalism. Uri Gordon draws on his activist experience and on interviews, discussions, and a vast selection of recent literature to explore the activities, cultures, and agendas shaping today’s explosive anti-authoritarian revival.

KEMPTON, Richard
Provo: Amsterdam’s Anarchist Revolt
$14.95 • pb • Autonomedia
9781570271816

Provo: Amsterdam’s Anarchist Revolt is the first book-length English-language study of Holland’s legendary insurrectional movement. In an introduction and eight chapters, Richard Kempton narrates the rise and fall of Provo from early Dutch “Happenings” staged in 1962 through to the so-called “Death of Provo” in 1967, including Robert Jasper Grootveld’s anarchist anti-cancer campaigns, the riots against Princess Beatrix’s marriage to an ex-Nazi, and the famous White Bicycle program. Then, in seven appendices, he comments on parallel contemporary and near-contemporary movements and offers an existentialist critique of Provo and other anarchist movements of the 60s. This unique book is based on extensive primary research and includes a selective bibliography of the Dutch sources.

KEY, Anna (ed)
Salvador Puig Antich and the MIL (Movimiento Iberico de Liberacion)
$4.00  •  pam  •  Kate Sharpley Library
9781873605448
Salvador Puig Antich was a revolutionary murdered by the state in Barcelona in the final years of the Franco regime. This volume looks at the struggle of the MIL, both in the context of the times and in light of current attempts to “rehabilitate” Antich as a martyr for capitalist democracy.

KINNA, Ruth
Anarchism: A Beginner’s Guide
$16.95  •  pb  •  OneWorld Publications
9781851683703
Ruth Kinna draws on a variety of sources to explain the principle of the rejection of the state, the theory of revolution and the role of anarchism in history, from the Russian Revolution and Paris 1968, to the rise of the Worldwide anti-globalization movement.

KROPOTKIN, Peter
Anarchism: A Collection of Revolutionary Writings
$10.95  •  pb  •  Dover
9780486449135
A handy anthology (300 pages) of some of Kropotkin’s shorter writings, some of which may be familiar—“An Appeal To The Young”; “Anarchist Morality”; “Spirit of Revolt”; “Modern Science and Anarchism”; “Law and Authority”; “Prisons and their Moral Influence on Prisoners”; “Revolutionary Government”; “The Russian Revolution and the Soviet Government”; and more. This is the same book that Dover previously published as Peter Kropotkin’s Revolutionary Pamphlets, and it’s just as good!

KROPOTKIN, Peter
The Conquest of Bread
$12.00  •  pb  •  Black Cat Press
9780973792745
A detailed, systematic description of how to build a future society where there is “well-being for all.” There are many competing editions of this work in print (including one published by AK!). This version is designed in the format of a field guide—it’s pocket-sized—as indeed it was used by Ukrainian and Spanish anarchists trying to build a new society.

KROPOTKIN, Peter
Mutual Aid: A Factor of Evolution
$8.95  •  pb  •  Dover
9780486449135
In a work of stunning and well-reasoned scholarship, Kropotkin posits that the most effective human and animal communities are essentially cooperative, rather than competitive. Essential to the understanding of human evolution as well as social organization, this book offers a powerful counterpoint to the tenets of Social Darwinism. Now available in this cheaper paperback edition!

LEIER, Mark
Bakunin: The Creative Passion
$12.00  •  hb  •  St. Martin’s Press
9780312305383
In this new biography of Mikhail Bakunin, Mark Leier traces the life and ideas of anarchism’s first major thinker, while in the process revealing the origins of the movement. Using archival sources and the most recent scholarship, Leier corrects many of the popular misconceptions about Bakunin and his ideas, offering a fresh interpretation of Bakunin’s life. He argues that anarchism is a philosophy of morality and solidarity, based not on wishful thinking or naïve beliefs about the goodness of humanity, but on a practical, radical critique of wealth and power. By studying Bakunin, we can learn a great deal about our own time and begin to recover a world of possibility and promise. A must have!

MALATESTA, Errico
At the Café: Conversations on Anarchism
$18.95  •  pb  •  Freedom Press
9781904491064
In 1897, while Malatesta was hiding from the police, he regularly went to a café in Ancona, Italy. He had shaved off his usual beard, but was still taking a risk—especially as this wasn’t an anarchist café, but had a variety of customers including the local policeman. The conversations he had in this café became the basis for the dialogs that make up this book. For the first time in English, Malatesta critically analyses the arguments for and against anarchism.

MAKHNO, Nestor
The Russian Revolution in Ukraine
$21.95  •  pb  •  Black Cat Press
9780973792714
Nestor Makhno (1888–1934) was a peasant anarcho-communist who organized an experiment in anarchist values and practice in southeast Ukraine during the Russian Revolutions of 1917 and the subsequent Civil War (1917–1921). The Russian Revolution in Ukraine is the first volume of his memoirs and covers the two Russian revolutions from the point of view of a peasant activist in a Ukrainian village. This is the first English translation of this work, originally published in France in 1928–1929.

MAHER, Marcos
Anarchism: For Beginners
$14.95  •  pb  •  For Beginners
9781934389324
Anarchists battled oppression and the state throughout the 20th century and were also fundamental to the artistic vanguards and some popular culture phenomena, like punk rock. This text, accompanied by Sanyú’s illustrations, covers the history and influence of this movement through its contradictions, missteps, creativity, and indefatigable fighting spirit.

SKOLSKY, Ron
Swift Winds
$8.00  •  pb  •  Eberhardt Press
No ISBN
Ron Sakolsky’s backpack compendium of subversive texts, marvelous manifestos, mutinous ranters, outrageous idees, utopian dreams, impossible demands and incendiary broadsides—strategically aimed at countering the pathos of misbehavior with the uncontrollable laughter of the insurgent imagination.

WARD, Colin
Anarchy in Action
$17.95  •  pb  •  Freedom Press
9780690084402
With chapters on the family, horizontal federations, schools, housing, crime, employment, welfare, deviancy, planning, and more, this is probably the best practical example of anarchist ideas in action. As Ward writes in his introduction, “This book is not intended for people who had spent a lifetime pondering the problems of anarchism, but for those who either had no idea of what the word implied or knew exactly what it implied and rejected it, considering that it had no relevance for the modern world.”
EBERHARDT, Isabelle

Living My Life: Volume 1
$15.95  •  pb  •  Dover
9780486225342

The first volume of the no-holds-barred autobiographical account of Emma Goldman's philosophical and political journey through life. From her politicization as a young Russian immigrant arriving in the US at seventeen, to her journey through the labyrinth of American, Russian, and European politics over the next forty years. Essential reading.

GOLDMAN, Emma

Living My Life: Volume 2
$15.95  •  pb  •  Dover
9780486225342

The second volume of Emma Goldman's unabridged autobiographical account of her life. It begins with the death of Voltairine de Cleyre in 1912 and continues until she sat down to write in France in the late 20s.

KING, Robert Hillary

From the Bottom of the Heap: The Autobiography of Black Panther Robert Hillary King
$24.95  •  hb  •  PM Press
9781604862999

In 1970, a jury convicted Robert Hillary King of a crime he did not commit, and sentenced him to thirty-five years in prison. He became a member of the Black Panther Party while in Angola State Penitentiary, successfully organizing prisoners to improve conditions. In return, prison authorities beat him, starved him, and gave him life without parole—after framing him for a second crime. He was thrown into solitary confinement, where he remained in a six-by-nine foot cell for twenty-nine years as one of the Angola 3. In 2001, the state grudgingly acknowledged his innocence and set him free. This is his story.

KRIEGER, Nancy

Queen of the Bolsheviks: The Hidden History of Dr. Marie Equi
$21.50  •  pam  •  Kersplebedeb
9781989464308

Now forgotten, Dr. Marie Equi was a physician for working-class women and children, a lesbian, and a dynamic and flamboyant political activist. Spanning the period from the consolidation of northern industrial capitalism to the emergence of the US as the dominant imperialist power, Equi's life serves as a chronicle of her times and illuminates how one person was affected by, and sought to change, world events.

LEOPOLD, Les

The Man Who Hated Work and Loved Labor—The Life and Times of Tony Mazzocchi
$24.95  •  pb  •  Chelsea Green
9781932939246

In this compelling biography, author and labor expert Les Leopold recounts the life of the late Oil, Chemical, and Atomic Workers International Union leader and his struggle to address the unconscionable toxic exposure of tens of thousands of workers—a fight that led to the passage of the Occupational Safety and Health Act and his work alongside nuclear whistle-blower Karen Silkwood. Tony Mazzocchi's legacy lives on in today's ongoing alliances between labor activists and environmentalists.

MARQUESEE, Mike

Redemption Song: Muhammad Ali and the Spirit of the Sixties
$19.00  •  pb  •  Verso
9781844675272

Mike Marqusee explores a crucial moment at the crossroads of popular culture and mass resistance. He traces Ali's interaction with the black liberation and anti-war movements, including his brief but fascinating liaison with Malcolm X, as well as his encounters with Martin Luther King. Marqusee explores the origins and impact of Ali's dramatic public stands on race and the draft, and reinterprets the "Rumble in the Jungle." An antidote to the apolitical celebration of Ali's life, The 5th Inning is one man's examination of personal relationships, depression, love, and loss. This is a story of the individual alone on the pitching mound or in the batters' box. It's a box score filled with remembrance. It's a combination of baseball and the blues.

MEJIA, Camilo

Road from ar Ramadi: The Private Rebellion of Staff Sergeant Camilo Mejia, an Iraq War Memoir
$16.00  •  pb  •  Haymarket
97819318599530

Staff Sergeant Camilo Mejia became the new face of the antivar movement in early 2004 when he applied for a discharge from the Army as a conscientious objector. After serving in the Army for nearly nine years, he was the first known Iraq veteran to refuse to fight, citing moral concerns about the war and occupation. Released after serving nine months for desertion, the celebrated soldier-turned-pacifist tells his story, from his upbringing in Central America to his service in Iraq. Far from being an accidental activist, Mejia was raised by prominent Sandinista revolutionaries and draws inspiration from Jesuit teachings. In this stirring book, he argues passionately for human rights and the end to an unjust war.

MILLER, E. Ethelbert

The 5th Inning
$15.95  •  pb  •  PM Press/Busboys and Poets
9781604806627

The 5th Inning is poet and literary activist E. Ethelbert Miller's second memoir. Coming after Fathering Words: The Making of an African American Writer (published in 2000), this book finds Miller returning to baseball, the game of his youth, in order to find the metaphor that will provide the measurement of his life. The 5th Inning is one man's examination of personal relationships, depression, love, and loss. This is a story of the individual alone on the pitching mound or in the batters' box. It's a box score filled with remembrance. It's a combination of baseball and the blues.

NEUMANN, Osha

Up Against the Wall Motherfker. With Notes on Reason, Obsession and the Dream of Revolution
$16.95  •  pb  •  Seven Stories Press
9781583223494

They called themselves the Motherfuckers; others called them a "street gang with an analysis." Osha Neumann's thoughtful, funny, and honest account of his part in '60s counterculture is also an unflinching look at what all that rebellion of the past means today. The fast-moving story follows the establishment of the Motherfuckers, who influenced the Yippies and members of SDS; makes vivid the art, music, and politics of the era; and reveals the colorful, often deeply strange personalities that gave the movement its momentum.

PARSONS, Lucy

Lucy Parsons: Freedom, Equality & Solidarity—Writings & Speeches, 1878–1937
$17.00  •  pb  •  Charles H. Kerr
9780826283009

“Lucy Parsons’ writings are among the best and strongest in the history of US anarchism. Her long and often traumatic experience of the capitalist injustice system—from the KKK terror in her youth, through Haymarket and the judicial murder of her husband, to the US government’s war on the Wobblies—made her not “just another victim” but an extraordinarily articulate witness to, and vehement crusader against, all injustice.”—from the introduction, by Gale Ahrens

SHAKUR, Assata
Assata: An Autobiography
$16.95  •  pb  •  Lawrence Hill
9780965947025

A “compelling tale of the impact of white racism on a sensitive and powerful young black woman. Born Joanne Chesimard, she took an African name to confirm her commitment to black liberation, joined militant organizations, and was ultimately convicted of the murder of a New Jersey highway patrol officer in 1977. Her descriptions of life in prison and the vagaries of the court system are especially wrenching. Living now in Cuba as an escaped felon, she continues her utopian plea for revolution.”—Library Journal

WILDERSON, III, Frank B
Incognegro: A Memoir of Exile and Apartheid
$18.00  •  pb  •  South End Press
9780896087835

Wilderson was asked to comment. Incognegro: A Memoir of Exile and Apartheid is that comment.” Wilderson taught at Johannesburg and Soweto universities by day. By night, he helped the underground wing of the ANC coordinate clandestine propaganda, launch psychological warfare, and more. In this mesmerizing political memoir, Wilderson’s lyrical prose flows from childhood episodes in the white Minneapolis enclave “integrated” by his family to a rebellious adolescence at the student barricades in Berkeley and under tutelage of the Black Panther Party. This work is a literary tour de force sure to spark fierce debate in both the US and South Africa.

CDs

CHUMBAWAMBA
The Boy Bands Have Won
$14.95  •  CD  •  PM Press/Trade Root Music
9781604860276

Chumbawamba is back, armed with acoustic guitars, accordion and trumpet, five-part harmonies, a bucketful of attitude and a new twenty-five-track album called The Boy Bands Have Won. The new album is gentle and warm in tone, but caustic in intent. It plays with culture, and with the idea of recycling our own culture. Featuring guests the Oysterband, Roy Bailey, Robb Johnson, Barry Coope, and Jim Boyes…and a hundred others, give or take a few.

DROWNING DOG
Mix Tapes and Cotton—7”
$6.00  •  LP  •  Entarte Kunst

Drowning Dog gets personal with this new release—a story of working class division and institutionalized racism, seen with her eleven-year-old eyes, involving an attack on her family in Florida by the KKK back in 1987. Drowning Dog is on point and not afraid to address the world’s most pressing issues head on. Timely, short, and to the point, this 45 is Drowning Dog’s second release.

FREEDOM ARCHIVES (ed)
Paul Robeson: Words Like Freedom
$14.98  •  CD  •  Freedom Archives
9780979070410

With this CD, Freedom Archives introduces you to rare spoken words of the great Paul Robeson, illuminating a side of his personality and politics that has too often been suppressed. Robeson saw it as his responsibility to speak the truth about conditions both domestic and abroad, knowing that his fame would allow these messages to be more widely heard. At its core, Robeson’s message is one of militant, uncompromising resistance to racism, oppression, and tyranny—a “must keep fighting” spirit, even in the face of repression and the threat of death. On this CD, you’ll hear Robeson express this deeply rooted radicalism in great love for his own African-American people, their culture, and their revolutionary contributions, and you’ll hear it articulated in solidarity with poor and oppressed peoples and nations the world over.

HOFF, Devin
Solo Bass
$10.00  •  CD  •  No ISBN

The debut solo release from veteran jazz and creative musician Devin Hoff, Solo Bass is a collection of improvisations and original compositions for string bass, drawing on the intimate solo work of Munir Bashir, Joao Gilberto, Lightnin’ Hopkins, and Joelle Leandre, as well as the profound inspirations of Ornette Coleman, The Carter Family, and Black Sabbath. Extra-musical inspiration comes from historic and present traditions of insurrectionary libertarian socialism, with song titles derived from North American anarchist newspapers, as well as theories of the evolution of revolutionary praxis. Don’t miss it!

JENSEN, Derrick
Now This War Has Two Sides
$19.99  •  2 x CD  •  PM Press/Trade Root
9781604860076

Examining the premises of his latest controversial work, Endgame, as well as core elements of his ground-breaking book Culture of Make Believe, this two-hour lecture and discussion offers both a perfect introduction for newcomers and additional insight for those already familiar with Derrick Jensen’s work. Whether exposing the ravages of industrial civilization, relaying humorous anecdotes from his life, or bravely presenting a few of the endless forms that resistance can (and must) take, Jensen leaves his audience both engaged and enraged.

MARCOS, Subcomandante
Our Word is Our Weapon
$14.95  •  CD  •  Seven Stories

$7.95 • pb • Cinco Puntos

9780938317960

This bilingual children's book honors the 8,000 LA janitors who, in April 2000, put down their mops and brooms and went on strike. It tells the story of Carlitos, whose mother cleans offices. Every night, he mother goes to work while his family sends him to one of the skyscrapers in downtown LA. When she comes home in the morning, she sends Carlitos off to school before she goes to bed herself. One night his mama explains that she can't make enough money to support him and his abuela unless she can earn more. She and the other janitors have decided to go on strike. Carlitos finds his own special way to help and support her. Illustrated throughout in full-color by Francisco Delgado, and with an essay by Luis J. Rodriguez, this is an inspiring true tale for all ages of the family.

I Am A Taxi

$8.95 • pb • Groundwood

9780888997364

For twelve-year-old Diego and his family, home is a women's prison in Cochabamba, Bolivia. His parents farmed coca, a traditional Bolivian medicinal plant, until they got caught in the middle of the government's war on drugs and were mistakenly convicted of drug possession. Diego's parents are locked up, but he can come and go, running errands for them and other prisoners. But when his little sister runs away, earning his mother a heavy fine, the debt and dawning realization of his hopeless situation make him vulnerable to a plan that finds Diego in the jungle, working as a virtual slave in an illegal cocaine operation. Diego knows he must take a terrible risk if he ever wants to see his family again.

Weird Weather: Everything You Didn't Want to Know About Climate Change but Probably Should Find Out

9.95 • pb • Groundwood

9780888998415

One of England's most talented young comic artists offers up a scathingly funny and carefully researched exploration of climate change, presenting it to readers through the eyes of an idealistic adolescent, a fat cat businessman, and a mad scientist. The book explains the science behind global warming, shows how it is progressing, and tells what is and is not being done to stop the problem. Detailed references, suggestions for further reading, and lists of climate change organizations and websites open up possibilities for future exploration by readers, while the comic book format piques the interest of even the most reluctant.

Pitch Black: Don't Be Skerd

$17.95 • hb • Cinco Puntos

9781932065264

Anthony Horton is a homeless artist who lives underneath New York City. If you want to see his work, you'll have to walk along the tunnel walls in the darkest parts of the transit system. In 2005, he met Youme Landowne at a subway stop and they began to talk. They rode downtown and uptown, discussing art and life, and decided to work together—turning life into art. The graphic novel was the form these two artists chose: rich, beautiful black and white drawings, gritty but tender, dark, with a minimum of text, allowing the reader to fill in all the places for which there aren't any words. Pitch Black is a stark tale of homelessness, but is void of hopelessness.

Oranges in No Man's Land

$9.95 • pb • Haymarket

9781931859561

Ayasha lives in a battle-scarred building with her grandmother. Outside, a war is rippling the city apart. Set in Lebanon during the civil war, Oranges in No Man's Land is the richly moving result of Laird's own experiences in war torn Beirut. Her own son's early childhood amidst a backdrop of instability, militarism, and fear, helped inspire the story of Ayasha, a ten-year-old girl confronting checkpoints and military barriers to protect her grandmother and little brothers. With the help of her friend Samar, Ayasha becomes a true heroine: brave, selfless, and strong. Ayasha's moving journey provides insight into the power of the human spirit to rise above hatred and fear.

Raleigh Briggs collects her zines, illustrations, and thoughts around what it is that makes a great DIY household—homemade cleaning solvents that aren’t made from poison, herbs that will heal you, and how to setup a great garden. These tips and tricks fill in the gaps for those of us longing to live this lifestyle but lacking the necessary know-how.

CLARK, Ethan & JACKSON, Shelley Lynn
Chainbreaker Bike Book
$15.00 • pb • Microcosm
9780977055739
This is a bicycle repair manual that is hand-illustrated and conversationally toned—with an understanding that we don’t all come out of the womb with an innate understanding of mechanics and bicycles. Meant to be a friendly gateway into the world of fixing your not-so-brand-new commuter bike, by Ethan and Shelley of the Plan B Bike Project and French Quarter Bicycles in New Orleans. This book also reprints the original four issues of Chainbreaker zine, whose masters were destroyed in Hurricane Katrina flooding. A great book for beginners or someone who wants to geek out about bikes.

The Practical Cyclist: Bicycling for Real People

$14.95 • pb • New Society

9780865716339

Riding a bicycle is something you never forget—even if the last time you owned a bike, it had playing cards pinned to the spokes. There are many reasons for hopping back on a bike—getting healthier, saving money, saving the environment, but mainly to have fun. The Practical Cyclist is for those who have not been actively cycling for years, or perhaps are new to the sport; it is bicycling for real people. The Practical Cyclist provides simple, basic information that takes the intimidation out of visiting a bike shop and includes: how to choose equipment, proper riding technique, safety tips, accessories, and easy rules to help you get the most out of biking.

Do-It-Yourself Screenprinting: A Graphic Novel

$10.00 • pb • Microcosm

9780977050246

A fascinating graphic “novel” that details the art and science of screen-printing from inception to printed t-shirts! It teaches you how to build a screen, burn an image, test how things are going, pull ink, wash out screens, and more. It’s a true joy to see the exaggerated illustrations while learning such a useful and practical craft. Essential for people who don’t know how to silkscreen or those who are a bit rusty. The expanded sections talk about John’s personal experience selling printed shirts on the street in Berkeley and working in a t-shirt print shop. Crucial information and entertainment.

JACKSON, Shelley Lynn

A Rough Guide to Bicycle Maintenance

$2.00 • pam • Microcosm

9781934620328

Shelley created this as a little take-home instruction guide for her bike repair workshop at the Portland Zine Symposium. It goes over the basics of fixing a flat tire, working with wheels, the parts of a bike, bearings, doing a tune-up, tools, and dealing with bike shops as a woman; but most of all what shines through is her utter passion for cycling. Well worth any price for the information alone (but it is only $2.00!). Now includes additional pages of material about working on brakes!

Sing for your Supper: A DIY Guide to Playing Music, Writing Songs, and Booking Your Own Gigs

$5.95 • pam • PM Press

9781604880146

Succinct and to the point, David Rovics demystifies the very different skills necessary to cultivate the arts of songwriting, guitar playing, and tour booking. In an era when the truly independent record label is virtually a thing of the past, Rovics explains how it’s possible to make a living as a recording artist without a label. At a time when the corporate record industry is suing music fans for sharing music, Rovics explains why the internet is good for independent artists, and how to utilize its potential. For those hoping to get a major record deal and become rich and famous, look elsewhere. But if you’re looking to make a living as an independent artist, this pamphlet is a must-read.

SPENCER, Amy

DIY: The Rise of Lo-Fi Culture

$15.95 • pb • Marion Boyars

9780714532291

A well-informed study that champions the unsung artists and heroes of DIY distribution in art, music, literary zines, and culture. This exploration of lo-fi culture traces the origin of the DIY ethic to the skiffle movement of the 1950s, mail art, Black Mountain poetry and Avant-Garde art in the 1950s, the punk scene of the 1970s and 80s, right through to the current music scene. Through interviews with key writers, promoters, and musicians (including Bikini Kill and Bratmoblie) Amy charts the development of music outside of the publicity machine of the large companies, and examines the politics behind the production of the many “home-made” recordings and publications available today.

Bipedal, By Pedal!

$2.00 • pam • Microcosm

9781934620328

A social history and tactics lesson about the Critical Mass bicycle movement. Initially meant to serve as a lesson for the unaware, this document is a refresher and motivator about the movement. The biggest question—is Critical Mass a protest or a celebration?—is explored in extensive detail here and in submission pieces by Ted White (early Critical Mass co-founder and director of We Are Traffic), Ayleen Crotty (co-host of the KBOO bike show), Scott Larkin (Go By Bicycle zine), and more. There are also extensive reprints from the 1995 Critical Mass zine “Hey! Get Out of Our Way!” that updates the text and ideas. Illustrations (on every page!) by Matt Gauck, Fly, Sparky Taylor, Andy Singer, a clipping from The Oregonian, and more!

Meeting Resistance

$24.95 • DVD • First Run Features
No ISBN

Meeting Resistance is a daring, eye-opening film that raises the veil of anonymity surrounding the Iraqi insurgency by meeting face-to-face with individuals who are passionately engaged in the struggle against coalition forces. It documents, for the first time, the sentiments experienced and actions taken by a nation’s citizens when their homeland is occupied. With unique insight into the people involved in the resistance, this acclaimed film explodes myth after myth about the war in Iraq and the Iraqis who participate. Through its unprecedented access, Meeting Resistance is the missing puzzle piece in understanding the Iraqi war—not only the toll of the occupation, but the motivations of those who resist.

The Angry Brigade: The Spectacular Rise and Fall of Britain’s First Urban Guerilla Group

$19.95 • DVD • PM Press
9781604861969

Between 1970 and 1972 the Angry Brigade used guns and bombs in a series of symbolic attacks against property. A series of communiqués accompanied the actions, explaining the choice of targets and the Angry Brigade philosophy: autonomous organization and attacks on property alongside other forms of militant working-class action. From the start, the police were faced with the difficulty of getting to grips with a section of society they found totally alien. And were they facing an organization—or an idea? This documentary, produced for the BBC (and first shown in January 1973, shortly after the trial), remains the essential study of Britain’s first urban guerilla group. Really fascinating!

Young, Jewish and Left

$15.00 • DVD
No ISBN

A celebration of diversity, Young, Jewish and Left weaves queer culture, Jewish Arab history, secular Yiddishkeit, antiracist analysis, and religious/spiritual traditions into a multi-layered tapestry of Leftist politics. The film addresses issues surrounding race, spirituality, Zionism, queerness, resistance, justice, and liberation. Inspired by the Warsaw Ghetto Uprising, the Workmen’s Circle, and by their own communist and socialist grandparents, these Jewish radicals are creating a more just future by learning from and identifying with a collective, rich Jewish heritage of reform and rebellion. At a time when religious fundamentalists take power in the US and around the world, this documentary is an inspiration. Grab your Bubbe (grandmother) and your hubby (lover) and check it out.

Beyond Elections: Redefining Democracy in the Americas

$19.95 • DVD • PM Press
9781604868192

In 1989, the Brazilian Worker’s Party altered the concept of local government when they installed participatory budgeting in Porto Alegre, allowing residents to participate in the allocation of city funds. Ten years later, Hugo Chavez was swept into power with the promise of granting direct participation to the Venezuelan people, who have now formed tens of thousands of self-organized communal councils. In the Southern Cone, cooperative and recuperated factory numbers have grown, and across the Americas social movements and constitutional assemblies are taking authority away from the ruling elites and putting power into the hands of their members and citizens. Featuring interviews with: Eduardo Galeano, Amy Goodman, Emir Sader, Martha Harnecker, Ward Churchill, and Leonardo Avritzer, as well as cooperative and community members, elected representatives, academics, and activists.

Train on the Brain
$25.00 • DVD • Hollywood Can Suck It!
No ISBN

In what’s been called “the deepest train hopping doc,” filmmaker Alison Murray jumps out of the rat race, grabs a camera, and hits the rails with other punk kids on a trans-continental freight train hopping adventure. On their journey they encounter a cast of hobos and runaways, scallywags and castaways. Amidst run-ins with the law, and surviving the perils of the elements, Alison weaves her narrative film over beautifully shot 8mm film and digital video with an old-time soundtrack by Beck (think Woody Guthrie and Leadbelly).

The Angola 3: Black Panthers and the Last Slave Plantation
$19.95 • DVD • PM Press
9781604860207

This film tells the gripping story of Robert King, Herman Wallace, and Albert Woodfox, men who have endured solitary confinement longer than any known living prisoner in the US. Politicized through contact with the Black Panther Party while inside Louisiana’s prisons, they formed one of the only Panther prison chapters in history and worked to organize other prisoners into a movement for the right to live like humans. This feature-length movie explores their extraordinary struggle for justice while incarcerated in Angola, a former slave plantation. Narrated by Mumia Abu-Jamal, The Angola 3 features interviews with former Panthers, political prisoners and revolutionaries, including the Angola 3 themselves.

Irena Salina’s award-winning documentary investigates what experts label the most important political and environmental issue of the 21st century: the world water crisis. Salina builds a case against the growing privatization of the world’s dwindling fresh water supply with an unflinching focus on politics, pollution, human rights, and the emergence of a domineering world water cartel. The film introduces many of the governmental and corporate culprits behind the water grab, while begging the question, CAN ANYONE REALLY OWN WATER? Beyond identifying the problem, Flow also gives viewers a look at the people and institutions providing practical solutions to the water crisis and those developing new technologies, which are fast becoming blueprints for a successful global and economic turnaround.

The Guerrilla and the Hope: Lucio Cabañas
$29.95 • DVD • Facets
No ISBN

This DVD celebrates the life of Lucio Cabañas, who led one of the most important peasant revolts in Mexico’s history. Teacher-turned-guerrilla leader, Cabañas was beloved by the poor of South Mexico, scorned by his government, and closely watched by the CIA. In a seven-year campaign of theft, kidnappings, and shoot outs, Cabañas acquired a mystique reminiscent of Emiliano Zapata and Pancho Villa. Gunned down in 1974, Cabañas is remembered fondly in the mountains of Guerrero today as champion of the dispossessed. Testimonies from former guerrilla fighters, relatives, and historians tell his story. The Guerrilla and the Hope was nominated for a Silver Ariel for Best Documentary Feature. In Spanish with English subtitles.

Down But Not Out/Dos Americas: The Reconstruction of New Orleans
$15.00 • DVD • Upheaval Productions
No ISBN

Two films in one! On August 29, 2005 Category-5 hurricane, Katrina, attacked the Gulf Coast of the United States, destroying entire towns and leaving a trail of destruction in her wake. In early August 2006, almost one year after the disaster, survivors sit down and talk about their experiences of fighting for survival in the days following Katrina, and how their lives have progressed since returning to New Orleans. Providing accounts of living in a city whose population has largely been forgotten, the survivors give a stinging description of a slow reconstruction process that is ignoring the human cost and rebuilding. The second documentary focuses on those rebuilding this city through interviews with some of the estimated 100,000 Latino migrant laborers who have converged to New Orleans in search of work on the racks of the Gulf.

FOSTER, John Bellamy. The Ecological Revolution: Making Peace with the Planet $17.95  •  pb  •  Monthly Review 9781583227795

The roots of the present ecological crisis, John Bellamy Foster argues, lie in capitalism’s rapacious expansion, which has now achieved unprecedented heights of irrationality across the globe. Foster compellingly demonstrates that the only possible answer for humanity is an ecological revolution: a struggle to make peace with the planet. Foster details the beginnings of such a revolution in human relations with the environment, which can now be found throughout the globe, especially in the periphery of the world system, where the most ambitious experiments are taking place.

HENDRIX, Stephen & HIREN, Rebekah. Toolbox for Sustainable City Living $16.00  •  pb  •  South End Press 978096587704

Seven years ago, the Rhizome Collective transformed an abandoned Austin, Texas, warehouse into a sustainability training center. Here, with their first book, two of Rhizome’s founders provide step-by-step instructions for city dwellers, with directions for producing your own food, collecting water, managing waste, reclaiming land, and generating energy. With vibrant illustrations created by a member of the Beehive Collective and descriptive text based on years of experimentation, Stacy and Scott explain how to build and grow with cheap, salvaged, and recycled materials, making the guide an accessible and relevant tool for all members of the community.

KEMP, Herve. How the Rich Are Destroying the Earth $12.95  •  pb  •  Chelsea Green 9781602398289

Using his more than twenty years of experience as an environmental journalist, Kemp describes the invincibility that many of the world’s wealthy feel in the face of global warming, and how their unchecked privilege is thwarting action on the most vexing problem facing our world. Kemp argues that, despite environmentalists’ emphasis that “we’re all in the same boat,” the economic elites—who continue to benefit by plundering the environment—have access to “lifeboats” that insulate them from the resulting catastrophes. Societies have not been able to effectively combat the expanding ecological crisis because it is intimately linked to the social crisis under capitalism.

KELLOGG, Scott; PETTIGREW, Stacy; & MARTINEZ, Juan (illustrator). How the Rich Are Destroying the Earth $12.95  •  pb  •  Chelsea Green 9781602398289

This thoroughly revised and expanded edition of a Chelsea Green classic, authors Henderson and Van En provide new insight into making CSA not only a viable economic model, but the right choice for food lovers and farmers alike.

KEITH, Lierre. The Vegetarian Myth: Food, Justice, and Sustainability $20.00  •  pb  •  PM Press / Flashpoint Press 9781604866001

We’ve been told that a vegetarian diet can feed the hungry, honor the animals, and save the planet. Lierre Keith believed it and spent twenty years as a vegan. But in The Vegetarian Myth, she argues that we’ve been led astray—not by our longings for a just and sustainable world, but by our ignorance. Part memoir, part nutritional primer, and part political manifesto, this book will make you wonder about everything you think you know about food politics. Controversial, we know!

MONBIOT, George. Heat: How to Stop the Planet From Burning $18.00  •  pb  •  South End Press 9780896087873

Now in the long-awaited paperback version, this book marks an important moment in our civilization’s thinking about global warming. The question is no longer “Is climate change actually happening?” but “What do we do about it?” George Monbiot offers an ambitious and far-reaching program to cut our carbon dioxide emissions to the point where the environmental scales start tipping back—away from catastrophe. Also available in hardcover for $5!!

SHIVA, Vandana. Soil Not Oil: Environmental Justice in an Age of Climate Crisis $15.00  •  pb  •  South End Press 9780896087873

While Americans are regularly exposed to toxic chemicals in their everyday consumer products—from plastic softeners that can contribute to sexual malformations to cosmetics additives that can cause cancer—much of the world is following the European Union’s lead in adopting stricter safety standards. Contrary to the PR coming from corporate headquarters, business is no less profitable in Europe as a result of high standards. The result of this global double standard: US businesses lose ground to international competitors while US citizens are exposed to an ever-growing list of toxic chemicals. A win-win solution for American business and consumers is there for the taking, but who will lead the fight?

SCHAPIRO, Mark. Exposed: The Toxic Chemistry of Everyday Products $16.95  •  pb  •  Chelsea Green Publishing 9781603580588

A must-read for anyone who takes the future of the planet seriously, Soil Not Oil dares us to imagine a world where people matter more than profits. Shiva brilliantly reveals what connects humanity’s most urgent crises—food insecurity, peak oil, and climate change—and why any attempt to solve one without addressing the others will get us nowhere. Condemning industrial biofuels and agriculture as recipes for ecological and economic disaster, Shiva champions the small independent farm instead. Bold and visionary, This book calls for a return to sound agricultural principles, and a world based on self-organization, community, and environmental justice.

TRACZYK, David
Guerrilla Gardening: A Manual for Tending Taking Over
$19.95  •  pb  •  New Society
9780865715837

The term “guerrilla” may bring to mind a small band of armed soldiers, moving in the dead of night on a stealth mission. In the case of guerrilla gardening, the soldiers are planters, the weapons are shovels, and the mission is to transform an abandoned lot into a thing of beauty. These modern-day Johnny Appleseeds perform random acts of gardening, often without the property owner’s prior knowledge or permission. Typical targets are vacant lots, railway land, under-used public squares, and back alleys. The concept is simple, whimsical and has the cheeky appeal of being a not-quite-legal call to action.

AYERS, William & FORD, Patricia (eds.)
City Kids, City Teachers: Reports from the Front Row
$24.95  •  pb  •  New Press
9781555915515

City Kids, City Teachers—now reissued with a new introduction by William Ayers—has become a touchstone for urban educators, exploding the stereotypes of teaching in the city. In more than twenty-five provocative selections, set in context by Ayers and Patricia Ford, an all-star cast of educators and writers explores the surprising realities of city classrooms from kindergarten through high school.

AYERS, William; LADSON-BILLINGS, Gloria; MICHEL, Gregory & NOGUERA, Pedro A. (eds.)
City Kids, City Schools: More Reports from the Front Row
$24.94  •  pb  •  New Press
9781555915393

Of the approximately 50 million public school students in the US, more than half are in urban schools. A contemporary companion to City Kids, City Teachers: Reports from the Front Row, this new and timely collection was compiled by four of the country’s most prominent urban educators. Contributors including Sandra Cisneros, Jonathan Kozol, Sapphire, and Patricia J. Williams provide some of the best writing on life in city schools and neighborhoods. Young people and practicing teachers, poets, and scholars, social critics and journalists offer unique takes on topics ranging from culturally relevant teaching and scripted curricula to the criminalization of youth, gentrification, and the inequities of school funding.

The Modern School of Stleton: A Sketch
$15.00  •  pb  •  Factory School
9781800199444

The Modern School of Stleton, New Jersey was an institution born of the anarchist and libertarian education movements of the early-20th century, and inspired by the example of Francisco Ferrer. This Southpaw Culture edition of an important historical work, The Modern School of Stleton, reproduces the original text—including essays by Joseph Cohen, Alexis Ferrm, Harry Kelly, and Leonard Abbott. These writings, plus twenty photographs by Oscar Steckbardt, provide a compelling portrait of the special community and its flagship school.

FERM, Elizabeth Byrne
Freedom In Education
$14.95  •  pb  •  Factory School
9780299116024

In 1920, after years of running the Neighborhood Playhouse and Workshop kindergarten, Elizabeth Byrne Ferrm and her husband Alexis became co-principals at the Modern School of Stleton, New Jersey, the pioneer libertarian school. Assembled from Ferrm’s contributions to Stleton’s The Modern School magazine, Freedom in Education is a classic text in child development and anarchist theory.

FREIRE, Paulo
Pedagogy of the Oppressed
$18.95  •  pb  •  Continuum
9780823417268

The classic exposition that redefined the nature of teaching and education. Freire developed a theory for the education of people who are illiterate, especially adults, based on the conviction that every human being, no matter how “ignorant” or submerged in the “culture of silence,” is capable of looking critically at the world in a dialogical encounter with others. Provided with the proper tools for such an encounter, the individual can gradually perceive his or her personal social reality and deal critically with it.

Jess is sixteen and aware that she is in an impossible position—being the homosexual daughter of the president of the Mennonite college. She hits the road in search of a language and the freedom to speak it. On the train to Winnipeg she is found by Freya, Icelandic princess of her people, haloed and expert in the fine art of hand-rolling cigarettes, and enters Jess’ life, helping her escape emotional captivity. Jess embraces pothead, videogame-playing housemates in the world away from her Mennonite being. Then, she meets Shea. Jess can barely utter the name—afraid of the word, the woman, the possibility, and her own past.

BRENNER, Summer
I-5
$15.95  •  pb  •  PM Press/Switchblade
9781594510557

A novel of crime, transport, and sex, I-5 tells the bleak and brutal story of Anya and her eponymous journey north from Los Angeles to Oakland on the interstate that bisects the Central Valley of California. Young and already old, beautiful, and already worn, Anya is one of the anonymous thousands of hidden young women, falsely promised and painfully enslaved. She is a victim of sex trafficking, but don’t call her a victim. She refuses all pity and most help. Only one last stand remains between her and the American freedom promised when she was lured away from Russia.

Geek Mafia: Black Hat Blues
$17.95 • pb • PM Press
9781604860887

What do you call 1,000 hackers assembled into one hotel for the weekend? A menace to society? Trouble waiting to happen? They call it a computer security conference, or really, a Hacker Con. After a year of undercover recruiting at hacker cons all over the country, Chloe and Paul have assembled a new crew of elite hackers, driven anarchist activists, and seductive impersonators. Under the cover of one of Washington, DC’s biggest and most prestigious hacker events, they’re going up against powerhouse lobbyists, black hat hackers, and even the US Congress in order to take down their most challenging, and most deserving, target yet.

JENSEN, Derrick
Songs of the Dead
$20.08 • pb • PM Press/Flashpoint
9781604860443

A serial killer stalks the streets of Spokane, acting out a misogynist script from the dark heart of this culture. Across town, a writer named Derrick has spent his life tracking the reasons—political, psychological, spiritual—for the sadism of modern civilization. And through the grim nights, Nika, a trafficked woman, tries to survive the grinding violence of prostitution. Their lives, and the forces propelling them, are about to collide. While Derrick attempts to answer the ontological question of who is responsible for the culture of domination that’s destroying the earth, the serial killer—with opposite motivations—is asking much the same question of the women he kidnaps as his final act of possession. And Nika is next.

JONES, James
The Merry Month of May
$15.95 • pb • Akashic
9781619695145

Paris, May, 1968. This is the Paris of the barricaded boulevards, of rebelling students, sexual anarchists, and leftists. The reader sees, feels, smells, and fears all the turmoil of the frightening social quicksand of 1968. First published in 1970, this classic Jones novel provides the vicarious thrill of being a bystander in this rare and volatile moment of freedom and anarchy. From the author of From Here to Eternity.

Zelmont Raines has slid a long way since those winning touchdowns in the NFL brought him lucrative endorsement deals. Crack, booze, groupies, a paternity suit, an injury, and some shady investments have drained his bank account and his skills. Now he’s on his way back from the European leagues with a goal: one last chance at the big time in Los Angeles with the new expansion team, the Barons. Enter Wilma Wells, the lawyer for the team, who happens to be of a mind to pull off a job on her mobbed-up bosses. When Zelmont is enlisted in her schemes, he soon learns the violence he experienced on the field was just a warm-up to the dangers he faces with a woman more than his match.

Politics Noir: Thirteen Dark Tales from the Corridors of Power
$16.95 • pb • Verso
9781846516181

Politics Noir is a chilling and subversive collection of new crime stories featuring greed, corruption, insatiable ambition, and murder in the very highest places. Gary Phillips’ acclaimed stories chronicle the seedy underbelly of Los Angeles through the jaundiced eyes of his African-American investigator Ivan Monk. Phillips is a long-standing LA political activist and labor organizer.

ROAD, Cristy C.
Bad Habits: A Love Story
$15.95 • pb • Soft Skull Press
9781593762155

Bad Habits is the mostly-autobiographical story of Cristy Road’s personal revolution. Road takes us on an uncensored tour of her world—dingy dive bars, drugs in dark bathrooms, and long nights in strange beds. In her circle, drugs are cheap, ubiquitous, and they sometimes feel like the only way out. Writing in a tradition of transgressive authors, Road takes us deep inside the damaged soul and psyche of her young protagonist with a crushing language, violent as the street. But our heroine learns to leave her bad habits behind and emerge stronger and more independent, clean and open to love. Still punk, but punk by her own rules—she finds that life can be much more than mere survival.

SINCLAIR, Upton
The Flivver King: A Story of Ford-America
$14.00 • pb • Charles H. Kerr
9780802062541

The Flivver King is history as it ought to be written—from the bottom up and the top down, with monumental sensitivity to the compromise and conflict between the two extremes. Its two stories—those of Henry Ford and Ford-worker Abner Shutt, unfold side by side, indeed dialecically. They are, in the end, one story: the saga of class and culture in “Ford America.” Workers and bosses, flappers and Klansmen, war and depression, Prohibition outlaws and high-society parties, unions and anti-union gun thugs—few aspects of American life in the first four decades of the last century are missing from this small masterpiece. Originally written in 1937 to aid the United Automobile Workers’ organizing drive, The Flivver King answers the question “Why do we need a union?” with quiet eloquence.

STEINBERG, Michael
The Big Nuthin: A Fable
$10.00 • pb • Black Rain Press
No ISBN
A fable, The Big Nuthin, is set in a fictionalized city much like New Orleans before, during, and after a cataclysmic storm like Hurricane Katrina. Tales of overwhelming disaster may sometimes be best told through the stories of a few phantasmagoric individuals, and realities too harsh to relate can occasionally be best expressed in the form of a fable. In The Big Nuthin, three souls are blown together by the Big Wind, and then sloshed about by the High Waters that fast follow and refuse to really recede. Framing all their stories is the City That Care Forgot, whose very name has taken on a new meaning that is a disaster in and of itself.

SYCAMORE, Mattilda Bernstein
So Many Ways to Sleep Badly
$15.95 • pb • City Lights
9780872864889
Mattilda Bernstein Sycamore’s exhilarating new novel is about struggling to find hope in the ruins of everyday San Francisco—battling roaches, Bikram Yoga, chronically bad sex, NPR, internet cruising, tweakers, the cops, $100 bills, chronic pain, the gay vote, vegan restaurants, and incest, for building a movement which is “creating an economy at the service of human beings.”

TEA, Michelle
The Chelsea Whistle
$15.95 • pb • Seal Press
9781580052399
Told in Tea’s trademark loose-tongued, lyrical style, this gritty, confessional memoir both celebrates and annihilates one girl’s tightrope walk out of a working-class slum and the lessons she carries with her. The vulnerability of her sister Madeline; and her quietly brutal Polish father; the doddering, sometimes violent nuns of Our Lady of Assumption; Marisol Lewis from the projects by the creek; and Johanna Latrotta, the tough-as-nails Italian dance-school teacher, who offered a slim chance for escape to every young Chelsea girl in tulle and tap shoes. A new edition of this riveting read.

We Don’t Need Another Wave: Dispatches from the Next Generation of Feminists
$19.95 • pb • Seal Press
9781580051828
Today’s young feminists are wary of being labeled. They are media-savvy, hyper-aware of being categorized and marginalized, and are here to tell the world that feminists are feminists—diverse in age and experience—and that it’s time to drop the labels in favor of proactive agendas and united goals. The young writers in this collection band together under the banner of feminism to share the message that the F-word is a good thing, and that feminists are breaking new ground while still valuing the traditions and achievements of their sisters and foremothers. Contributors include Lisa Jervis, Alix Olson, and Cindy Crabb.

Hugo Chávez has said that “To abolish poverty we must give power to the poor.” Women, who are 70% of the poor, have made themselves the starting point of change. The extraordinary Women’s Development Bank (Bamnújer) is part of the process of revolutionizing Venezuela’s economy—promoting grassroots self-activity backed by the oil revenue. Its president, Nora Castañeda, describes how Bamnújer is providing a path-breaking framework for building a movement which is “creating an economy at the service of human beings.”

DALLA COSTA, Giovanna Franca
$13.95 • pb • Autonomedia
9781592332328
Originally published in 1978, the long-awaited English translation of this classic “manifesta” of radical Italian feminism helped define the autonomist-inspired “wages for housework” movement, identifying capitalist complicity in both the traditional nuclear family as well as the “liberation” of woman as wage-earner. This text confronts the relationship between physical (and specifically sexual) violence against women and the role of women in performing housework, to which they remain primarily assigned in the capitalist division of labor.

HALL, Ruth
Ask Any Woman: A London Inquiry into Rape and Sexual Assault
$10.00 • pb • Falling Wall Press
9780905046280
This, the first major survey on rape and sexual assault in Britain, answers the questions: how much? where? by whom? and what must be done? The pain of rape and the impact that it has on women’s confidence, freedom, and relationships are all addressed in this report. Every woman will feel less alone when she sees her personal fears and her experience shared by others on a massive scale. While official statistics rely on the few cases reported to the police, the statistics and quotations in this report overturn accepted notions about rape, and about what life is really like for women and girls. Originally published in 1985.

Feminist Theory: From Margin to Center
$16.00 • pb • South End Press
9780896086135
The classic criticism of white middle-class feminism remains a passionate call to overcome the personal and political barriers raised by differences of class, race, sexual orientation. "hooks' call to put poor women and women of color at the center of any feminist analysis or politics is still a necessary reminder. A new preface by the author introduces this new edition of this essential classic to a new generation of feminist readers, while reminding seasoned activists of the need for continual, critical reflection. Very influential to some of your friends at AK (or me anyway)!!

The Guide to Getting it On, 6th Edition
$24.95 • pb • Goat Foot Press
9781885535231
As the gay mainstream ironically prioritizes the attainment of straight privilege over all else, it drains queer identity of any meaning, relevance, or cultural value. That’s Revolting! shows us what the new queer resistance looks like. Edited by the instigator of San Francisco’s Gay Shame and with contributions from the likes of Charlie Anders, Patrick Califia, and Carol Queen, this collection challenges the commercialized, commodified, and hyper-objectified view of gay/queer identity projected by the mainstream media by exploring queer struggles to transform gender, revolutionize queerness, and build community outside of traditional models. It is both a blueprint and a call to action, bringing the post-identity politics of a new generation of pissed-off queers to a wider audience. Now revised and updated.

KUHN, Annette
Women’s Pictures: Feminism and Cinema
$20.00 • pb • Verso
9781859840108
This pioneering and influential work of feminist theory has been extensively updated by the author to chart the changes in feminist film theory and practice between the 80s and the 90s. The thesis proposed by Kuhn is an exciting one: namely, that feminism and cinema, taken together, could provide the basis for new forms of expression, providing the opportunity for a truly feminist alternative cinema in terms of film language, of reading that language, and of representing the world.

PASCOE, C.J.
Dude, You’re a Fag: Masculinity and Sexuality in High School
$19.95 • pb • University of California Press
9780520252301
High school and the difficult terrain of sexuality and gender identity are brilliantly explored in this smart, incisive ethnography. Based on eighteen months of fieldwork in a racially diverse working-class high school, Dude, You’re a Fag sheds new light on masculinity both as a field of meaning and as a set of social practices. C. J. Pascoe’s unorthodox approach analyzes masculinity not only a gendered process but also a sexual one. She demonstrates how the “specter of the fag” becomes a disciplinary mechanism for regulating heterosexual as well as homosexual boys and how the “fag discourse” is as much tied to gender as it is to sexuality.

RATHBONE, Eleanor
The Disinherited Family
$15.00 • pb • Falling Wall Press
9780905046136
From the early twentieth century, the grassroots women’s movement fought for the “working woman”—the housewife who labored without payment in the working class home and who, when she left that home for a job, was denied equal pay. This movement was the major factor in winning both the vote and the Welfare State. In The Disinherited Family, Eleanor Rathbone directed her arguments for the “endowment of motherhood” not to the grassroots women who had shaped her views, but to the State planners and politicians whom she had to win to their side. First published in 1924, this book was immediately hailed as a classic.

In 1980, police attacked the Sexgarage party in Montréal’s warehouse district. In retrospect, the subsequent political mobilization looks like the “coming out” of queer politics in Montréal, and as such is commemorated every year in that city’s LGBTQ march, “Divers/Cité.” This short pamphlet examines the context and previous political mobilizations which laid the basis for people feeling empowered to fight back against police violence—the Mohawk Nation’s conflict with the Canadian state, the AIDS activist movement, and previous responses to homophobic violence in Montréal.

Nobody Passes: Rejecting the Rules of Gender and Conformity
$15.95 • pb • Seal Press
9781580051842
A collection of essays that confronts and challenges the very notion of belonging. By examining the perilous intersections of identity, categorization, and community, contributors challenge societal mores and countercultural norms. Nobody Passes explores and critiques the various systems of power seen (or not seen) in the act of “passing.” In a pass-fail situation, standards for acceptance may vary, but somebody always gets trampled on. This anthology seeks to eliminate the pressure to pass and thereby unearth the delicious and devastating opportunities for transformation that might create.

$20.00  •  pb  •  PM Press
9781604860003

When it comes to art, London is best known for its galleries, not its graffiti—but not if photographer Martin Bull has anything to say about it. While newspapers and magazines send their critics to the Tate Modern, Bull is out taking photos of the latest street installations by guerrilla art icon Banksy. In three guided tours, he documents the London sites of the most important works by the legendary political artist. Boosting over one hundred color photos, Banksy: Locations and Tours also includes work by many of Banksy’s peers, including Eine, Faile, El Chivo, Arofish, Cept, Space Invader, Blek Le Rat, D*face, and Shepard Fairey. This new US edition includes updated locations (GPSI) and new photos.

Many misunderstandings between blacks and whites in today's society stem from the misconceptions about blacks that have been allowed to thrive throughout the ages. An effective way to help abolish these stereotypes is to help present a more complete picture of the black people throughout history. Black History for Beginners covers a rich but often ignored history, and chronicles the black struggle from capture and enslavement in Africa through the Civil Rights movement to today, and the new and different kinds of struggles that black people now face, all in the easy-to-follow graphic style we've come to expect from the For Beginners series.

Malcolm X for Beginners reveals the teacher, leader, and revolutionary voice that Malcolm X was and continues to be. Powerful narrative and graphics trace his life story, journey of self-discovery, far-reaching ideas, martyrdom, and impact on an era. Embraced as a prophet of Black empowerment, dammed as the voice of violence, Malcolm X emerges as a complex and brilliant figure with much to teach about the struggle for dignity. Though it is not unusual to find people wearing Malcolm X t-shirts and buttons, many do not know who Malcolm X was and how deeply he changed how we see one another. Malcolm X for Beginners brings to surface little known facts about Malcolm's life and the evolution of his ideas.

Without a doubt, stencils are the fastest, easiest, and cheapest method for painting an image on a wall, a sidewalk, or practically anywhere. Stencil Nation focuses on the unexpected mix of this lively, accessible medium—from famous artists, including Banksy, to international street stencils and gallery shows—to reveal engaging aspects of an intentionally secretive creative community. With dynamically-illustrated perspectives from the niches of the art form, female artists, documentarians, and the growing online community of the international scene are featured in this fresh collection of photographs and essays curated by StencilArchive.org's founder, Russell Howze. Stencil Nation builds upon previous published works to give the most extensive and up-to-date history of stencil art, as well as how-to tips from the artists themselves.

Stencils in the 21st Century Activist
$19.95  •  pb  •  Soft Skull Press
9780979636311

Stencil Pirates places street graffiti within the larger pantheon of public expression. From political to abstract and purely aesthetic (and even to the official Post No Bills, anyone)—from tagging to public announcements—street stencils have remade the way pedestrians, artists, and even corporations think about public space. Whether as part of the anti-gentrification struggles in New York or as a powerful tool during the recent uprising in Argentina, stencils are placed in their challenging, artistic, and political context. Plus of course, there’s a cut-and-spray instruction manual, cardboard patterns, and the hundreds and hundreds (and hundreds) of photos. From Banksy to Tobocman, and a whole lot more. An incredible work, and collection of works.

Street Art Chile
$24.95  •  pb  •  Gingko Press

A leading Latin American center of radical propaganda painting since 1940—reflected chiefly through public murals—Chile is now home to a unique and extraordinarily vibrant street art scene. Since the end of the Pinochet dictatorship in 1990, Chile has embraced an era of new freedoms, clearly reflected through the prism of publicly accessible art forms. In the Chile of today, Latin American protest traditions have encountered the rebelliousness of worldwide graffiti; the outcome is an approachable, yet defiantly anarchic, street art that plays a central role in the fabric of Chilean society and culture. Street Art Chile's many high-quality color photos bring you up close to some of the highlights.
From poverty and a Yorkshire orphanage, Herbert Read went on to become the most significant cultural critic to come out of England in the twentieth century. He was a major art theorist and writer on literature, a key figure in anarchist politics, a leading figure in many European art movements, and one of the first English writers to embrace the Existentialist theories of Sartre. And yet, after his death in 1968, he became an almost forgotten figure in art and cultural studies. In this book, sixteen of the world’s leading writers on modernist cultural history look at Read’s work again, placing him in the context of twentieth-century cultural life. Very well illustrated with images by many of the artists Read championed.

ALENN, Joe
Vietnam: The Last War the US Lost
$14.00 • pb • Haymarket
9781583283319
In this timely study, Joe Allen examines the lessons of the Vietnam era, both as a dedicated historian and a veteran antwar activist. Debunking the popular mythology surrounding the US’ longest war to date, Allen addresses three elements that played a central role in routing the US in Vietnam: the resistance of the Vietnamese, the antiwar movement in the United States, and the courageous rebellion of soldiers against US military command. Allen reclaims the suppressed history of the GI revolt and documents how the erosion of support for war, both within the US and the military itself, left the world’s most powerful political and military establishment unable to combat the determined warfare of the Vietnamese.

Big History represents a new kind of inquiry, one that skillfully interweaves historical knowledge and cutting-edge science. In an age of global warming, when the fate of the earth hangs in the balance, scientific advances permit us to see the universe as never before, grasping the timescales that allow us to understand the history of mankind in the context of its ecological impact on the planet. Cynthia Brown’s lucid, accessible narrative is the first popularization of this innovative new field of study. From the origins of the universe to a planet inhabited by 6.1 billion people, it’s a story of prehistoric geology, human evolution, the agrarian age, the Black Death, the voyages of Columbus, the industrial revolution, and global warming.

Ragusa, Sicily, 1945. Mussolini’s fascist regime had fallen apart, and many of his backers had turned “democratic,” desperate to prevent a revolution. After five years of war, their attempts to create a new Italian army were met with evasion and resistance. Maria Occhipinti began the Ragusa anti-draft revolt of January, 1945 by laying down in front of an army truck carrying arrested draftees, who then escaped. A four-day insurrection followed, with the rich dispossessed, until the Italian army retook the city. Maria Occhipinti served nearly two years in prison for role. Here we present texts on the 1945 revolt, anti-fascism in Ragusa, and biographies of both Maria Occhipinti and fellow Ragusan anarchist rebel, Franco Leggio.

Os Cangaceiros was a group of delinquents caught up in the spirit of the French insurrection of 1968 who refused to let that spirit die. With nothing but contempt for the self-sacrificial ideology practiced by “specialists in armed struggle,” this uncontrollable band of social rebels wreaked havoc on the French state—attacking infrastructures of oppression, supporting popular revolts, stealing and releasing secret blueprints for high-tech prisons, raising the offices of corporate collaborators, and creating their lives in complete opposition to the world based on work. This volume, translated by Wolfi Landstreicher, is the first substantial collection of the writings of Os Cangaceiros in English.

Daring to Struggle, Failing to Win: The Red Army Faction’s 1977 Campaign of Desperation
$9.95 • pam • PM Press/Kersplebedeb
9781604860283
In 1970, a small group of West German revolutionaries decided to go underground, to set up safe houses, and learn the skills in urban guerilla warfare. They were the Red Army Faction. Seven years later, almost all of the original combatants were in prison or dead, yet they inspired a militant movement. 1977 was to be a year of reckoning; through daring attacks and devastating errors, the RAF brought their society to the brink, mounting one of the most desperate and incredible campaigns of asymmetrical warfare ever waged in postwar Europe. This pamphlet brings to light the actors and what they fought for. Most tragically, it shows the lengths the state would go to silence them.

On October 16, 1859, John Brown led a historic attack on the Harper's Ferry Armory. He led a group of eighteen men in an attempt to seize the federal armory to arm slaves for an insurrection. Brown's raid brought national attention to the growing opposition to slavery, and gave inspiration to the wing of the abolitionist movement that sought to go beyond moral and rhetorical appeals to challenge the system of slavery. Here, Nelson narrates the incredible events that unfolded at Harper's Ferry and sheds light on the story of one of the great heroes of the abolition struggle. This new edition of the classic historical biography coincides with the 150th anniversary of Brown's courageous uprising against slavery.

Why was Winnipeg the scene of the longest and the most complete general strike in North American history? This study attempts to answer this question by examining the development of union labor and the impact of depression and war in the two decades preceding Winnipeg’s general strike in 1919. It becomes clear that the general strike was not a sudden isolated outburst of labor discontent, but something that arose naturally out of a gradual worsening of labor-management relations before and during WWI.

Known to most only as the place where punk rock legends Green Day, Operation Ivy, and Rancid were spawned, and home of the “East Bay sound,” there’s actually a lot more that’s impressive about Gilman Street. What you get here—in words and over 200 photographs—is a thorough historical account of the first 17 years of the all-ages, volunteer-run punk club in Berkeley, CA, as recounted by those that actually worked there, went there, and occasionally played there. Some of the names you may know, but most of them you won’t. Which is, of course, what makes the project, and this document, so incredible. Heartfelt and inspiring, these writings truly capture the history. Better yet, it comes with twenty-five original recordings. Plus, the work is full of the lyrics, art, and photographs of people and their times.

Don Letts is Grammy Award-winning film-maker, celebrated DJ, co-founder of Big Audio Dynamite, British icon. A chance meeting in his youth provided him with a Super-8 movie camera, the result of which set Letts on a career resulting in over 300 influential promo videos featuring Sex Pistols, PJ, the Slits, The Clash, Bob Marley, and even the platinum-selling “Musical Youth,” provided him with a Super-8 movie camera, the result of which set Letts on a career resulting in over 300 influential promo videos featuring Sex Pistols, PJ, the Slits, The Clash, Bob Marley, and even the platinum-selling “Musical Youth,” and spiritual redemption. A traumatic childhood in foster homes was just the beginning of John’s evolution. Before fronting one of the most important bands in the underground punk scene, the Cro-Mags, John faced homelessness, addiction, betrayal, and insanity. Still, even his success couldn’t save him from a relapse that set him back to square one—rock bottom. The book is a raw and unapologetic autobiography about his life. Consider yourself warned.

BARAKA, Amiri
Home: Social Essays
$15.95 • pb • Akashic
9781933354675

Home is, in effect, the ideological autobiography of LeRoi Jones/Amiri Baraka. The two dozen essays that constitute this book were written during a five-year span—a turbulent and critical period for African Americans and whites. The Cuban Revolution, the Birmingham bombings, Robert Williams’ Monroe Defense movement, the Harlem riots, the assassination of Malcolm X... each changed the way Jones/Baraka looked at America. This progressive change is recorded with honesty, anger, and passion in his writings.

From the South Side’s Hyde Park, to the North Beach of Rogers Park, with sidekicks in the suburbs and notable stop-overs at Bughouse Square, this lively and wide-ranging book portrays a different vision of Chicago that readers will find refreshing and unforgettable. Here are real-life stories of artists, actors, musicians, post-office workers, poets and dreamers, Maxwell Street defenders... and civil rights activists, longtime residents and visitors from afar, from the World’s Fair in the 1930s to today.

CHOMSKY, Noam
The Essential Chomsky
$19.95 • pb • New Press
9781595581891
For the past forty years Noam Chomsky’s writings on politics and language have established him as a preeminent public intellectual and one of the most original and wide-ranging political and social critics of our time. Among the seminal figures in linguistic theory over the past century, since the 1960s Chomsky has also secured a place as one of the leading dissident voices in the US. The Essential Chomsky assembles the core of his most important writings.

Silent Interviews: On Language, Race, Sex, Science Fiction, and Some Comics
15.00 • pb • Wesleyan University Press
9780819562807
For nearly three decades, Samuel R. Delany’s science fiction has transported millions of readers to the fringes of time, technology, and outer space. Now Delany surveys the realms of his own experience as writer, critic, theorist, and gay black man in this collection of written interviews. Here, Delany pursues the breadth and depth of his ideas on language and theory, the politics of literary composition, the experience of marginality, and the philosophical, commercial, and personal contexts of writing today.

HAYDEN, Tom
Writings for a Democratic Society: The Tom Hayden Reader
$21.95 • pb • City Lights
9780872864610
For the last fifty years, Hayden has been an outspoken advocate for civil rights, social justice, environmental protection, and peace. From his earliest days as a Freedom Rider in the segregated South to his involvement in the street protests of 1968, from his years on the forefront of the anti-Vietnam War movement to his many years of service as a California state legislator, Hayden’s writings celebrate and affirm an alternative American experience and constitute nothing less than a history of our times.

ICARUS PROJECT
Navigating the Space Between Brilliance and Madness: A Reader & Roadmap of Bipolar Worlds
$8.00 • pam • Icarus Project
9780980370293
This book emerged from the Icarus Project’s website, which has been helping a brilliant and disparate group of folks find ways to talk about manic depression that make sense to them—the people living with it—and helping them to live better lives rather than backing them into corners. This book began as a way of bringing these conversations onto the written page and into the hands of more people; it has evolved into a set of alternative roadmaps for people who are trying to take care of ourselves and live out their dreams. Almost 100 oversize pages.

YATES, Michael D.
In and Out of the Working Class
$19.95 • pb • Arbeiter Ring
9781904037358
In a series of autobiographical essays written on the border between fiction and non-fiction, a radical economist considers what it means to live in and through the theories about class that have informed his work and teaching. Yates seeks to bring the complexity and ambiguity of class, racial, and gender identity into focus through his own life. Yates writes of the erosion of self-confidence and the anxiety caused by the everyday fears of working-class families. He speaks honestly of the ambivalence and heartbreak caused by upward economic mobility, while relating in a deeply personal way to the structures of class inequality in American life.

GIANELLI, Brian Edward
The Anarchist’s Book of Verse
$14.99 • pb • Charlotte Keller
9781605857206
Brian Gianelli was a musician, lyricist, composer, singer, poet, and performer who was born in Prescott, Arizona and died there in a canoeing accident at age twenty-five. Brian firmly believed that mankind is wholly capable of functioning without government to control what human nature would inevitably bring about. From age twelve, he wrote and composed songs that drew the spotlight to the corruption of governments and corporations and to the insanity of war. This book of his lyrics and poems alongside original works presents a sweeping view of important radical theater ensemble in American (or world) history.

THOMSON, James & HARPER, Clifford (ed)
The City of Dreadful Night
$17.95 • pb • Agrapha Press
97810456011
James Thomson’s epic poem “The City of Dreadful Night” first appeared in 1784 and achieved some fame in its day, as it was read by many. In the decades that followed, however, the poem and the poet sank into obscurity, becoming known only to a few. Thomson’s poem is a deeply questioning and extremely dark vision of the city that we inhabit. But more than that, it challenges the illusions that inhabit us. Thomson—atheist, alcoholic, anarchist and insomniac—speaks to us all from the place where we live.

This new edition is illustrated with eight drawings by Clifford Harper, and will hopefully help give the poem a new audience.

The World We Wish to See: Revolutionary Objectives in the Twenty-First Century
$15.95 • pb • Monthly Review
978158367719
The World We Wish to See presents a sweeping view of twentieth-century political history and a stirring appeal to take political organization seriously. Throughout the last century, great revolutions, the communist and socialist Internationals, and national liberation movements presented a serious challenge to global capital. Neoliberalism and the US drive for military hegemony have given rise to new political and social movements and new attempts at international organization, such as the World Social Forum. Amin maps these oppositional formations, critically assessing their potential and limitations for the revolutionary project today.

ARGENTI, Filippo
Nights of Rage: On the Recent Revolts in France
$6.00 • pam • Elephant Editions
This booklet is a modest contribution to understanding the recent revolts in France. Needless to say, it is not sociological, nor in a nobler sense, theoretical insight. Revolts can only be understood by those who have the same needs as the rebels—that is to say by those who feel they are part of the revolt. After a brief chronology, the pages that follow pose the question of how the events of November in France concern all of us, and also try to give a possible answer.

BILAL, Wafaa & LYDERSON, Kari
Shoot an Iraqi: Art, Life and Resistance Under the Gun
$16.95 • pb • City Lights
9780872864913
Wafaa Bilal’s escaped Iraq, his childhood home, and made it to the US eventually becoming a professor and a successful artist. When his brother was killed at a US checkpoint, he decided to use his art to confront those in the comfort zone with the realities of life in a conflict zone. Thus “Domestic Tension,” an unsettling interactive performance piece: for one month, Bilal lived alone in a prison cell-sized room in the line of fire of a remote-controlled paintball gun and a camera that connected him to internet viewers around the world. Visitors to the gallery and a virtual audience could shoot at him twenty-four hours a day. This first-person account is supplemented with comments on the history and current political situation in Iraq and the context of “Domestic Tension” within the art world. Pertinent reading for those who seek insight into the recent conflict in Iraq, and for those fascinated by interactive art technologies and the ever-expanding world of online gaming.

CASTAÑEDA, Jorge
Ex Mex: From Migrants to Immigrants
$5.00 • hb • New Press
9781585631631
In “portraits that defy American stereotypes of who is a Mexican immigrant,” (Booklist), former Mexican foreign minister and eminent scholar Jorge G. Castañeda describes just who makes up the recent generation of immigrants from Mexico, why they have chosen to live in the United States, where they work, and what they ultimately hope to achieve. Drawing on his wide-ranging experience, Castañeda examines the century-long historical background behind the labor exchange between Mexico and the United States, while offering an insider’s account of the official conversations and secret negotiations between the two countries in recent years. Difficult to pass up at just $5.

CHEHAB, Zaki
Inside Hamas: The Untold Story of the Militant Islamic Movement
$15.95 • pb • Nation Books
9781568583952
Zaki Chehab is one of the Arab world’s leading reporters, and was among the first to interview members of the Iraqi resistance in May 2003. As a Palestinian raised in a UN refugee camp in Lebanon, Chehab has unique access to key figures, making Inside Hamas a rare window into the much discussed, but little understood, radical movement. Tracing the rise of Hamas, Chehab reveals how the group developed with the implicit encouragement of the Israelis. He also explains why, in the face of the endless complexities, disappointments, and delays brought about by the Oslo Peace Accord, Hamas’ strategy of armed struggle offers the Palestinian people a seductive, simple, and deadly alternative. In addition, Chehab investigates Hamas’ relationship with other groups, such as Hezbollah and Al Qaeda.

DABASHI, Hamid
Iran: A People Interrupted
$16.95 • pb • New Press
9781595583338

In this brilliant and lucid new historical narrative, a preeminent scholar of modern Iran fills a crucial gap in our understanding of the nation that has emerged as the United States’ prime antagonist. Hamid Dabashi, an internationally renowned cultural critic and scholar of Iranian history and Islamic culture, traces the full sweep of that country’s history over the past two centuries with unprecedented analysis of key events, cultural trends, and political developments, up to the collapse of the reform movement and the emergence of the new and combative presidency of Mahmoud Ahmadinejad. Iran: A People Interrupted is a deeply informed and eloquently written account of a national struggle for freedom and democracy against the overwhelming backdrop of the US military hegemony—one that will be of enduring, immediate, and urgent interest to anyone hoping to make sense of current events in the larger historical and regional contexts.

Teaching Rebellion: Stories from the Grassroots Mobilization in Oaxaca
$21.99 • pb • PM Press
9781608680320

In 2006, Oaxaca, Mexico came alive with a broad and diverse movement that captivated the nation and earned the admiration of communities organizing for social justice around the world. Fueled by long-ignored social contradictions, what began as a teachers’ strike demanding more resources for education quickly turned into a massive movement that demanded direct, participatory democracy. Teaching Rebellion is a compilation of testimonies from long-time organizers, teachers, students, housewives, religious leaders, union members, school children, indigenous community activists, artists, and journalists—and many others who participated in what became the Popular Assembly of the Peoples of Oaxaca. This is a chance to listen directly to those invested in and affected by what quickly became one of the most important social uprisings in recent history.

ELMER, Greg & OPEL, Andy
Preempting Dissent: The Politics of an Inevitable Future
$12.95 • pb • Arbeiter Ring
9781894037341

The Bush administration’s “War on Terror” ushered in a new logic of surveillance, suppressing public dissent and mobilizing both “faith” and “fear.” Elmer and Opel reveal the underlying logic of preemption whereby threats must be eliminated before they materialize, drawing on social theories and media analyses to assess the wider impact of this new era of security and political order. They track three emerging strategies: zoning or incarceration of protesters, expansion of human surveillance techniques by police and law enforcement agencies, and deployment of “stealth” forms of crowd control. Addressing the logic of preemption, Elmer and Opel lay the groundwork for more effective resistance.

How Nonviolence Protects the State
$10.00 • pb • South End Press
9780896087729

People working for social change face plenty of difficult questions, but sometimes matters of strategy and tactics receive low priority. Among many North American activists, the role of nonviolence, as the default mode of struggle, bears little scrutiny. Is nonviolence effective at ending systems of oppression? How is nonviolence connected to white privilege? Is militancy naturally macho, or does pacifism reinforce the same power dynamics as patriarchy? How Nonviolence Protects the State brings existing criticisms of nonviolence, and several new ones, in an attempt to illuminate one of the most severe roadblocks to social change today.

GIBLER, John
Mexico Unconquered: Chronicles of Power and Revolt
$16.95 • pb • City Lights
9780789112431

Mexico Unconquered is an evocative report on the epic powers of violence and corruption in Mexico and the underdogs and rebels who put their lives on the line to build justice from the ground up. Author John Gibler probes the overwhelming divisions in contemporary Mexico, home to the world’s richest man, Carlos Slim, and to destitute millions. The book explores the concept of the Rule of Law in a land known for its implacable corruption and impunity; the political machinations behind Mexico’s devastating economic disparities; the implications and consequences of the annual exodus of half a million Mexicans to the United States; the unprecedented civil disobedience uprising in Oaxaca state; and the continuing Indigenous presence that resists the government’s attempts to confine Mexico’s 10 million Indigenous peoples to calm and controlled corners of the past.

Dying To Live: A Story of US Immigration in an Age of Global Apartheid
$16.95  •  pb  •  City Lights
9780732804683
A compelling account of US immigration and border enforcement told through the journey of one man who perished in California’s Imperial Valley while trying to reunite with his wife and child in Los Angeles. At a time when Republican and Democratic alike embrace increasingly militaristic border enforcement policies under the guise of security, and local governments around the country are taking matters into their own hands, Dying to Live offers a timely confrontation to such prescriptions and puts a human face on the rapidly growing crisis. Moreover, it provides a valuable perspective on the historical geography of US-Mexico relations, and immigration and boundary enforcement, illustrating its profound impact on people’s lives, and deaths. Illustrated with dozens of stunning photographs by Mizue Aizeki.

ROBINSON, Randall
An Unbroken Agony: Haiti, from Revolution to the Kidnapping of a President
$16.95  •  pb  •  Basic Books
9780465070534
Randall Robinson majestically chronicles the convulsive history of this island nation—from Columbus’ arrival to the fearlessness of the slave revolutionaries who defeated the armies of Napoleon Bonaparte in 1804, warring from France the most valuable colony of any European power anywhere in the world; from the ideals of the young republic, to the foreign backed dictators who corrupted those ideals, culminating in the American led operation removing from power Haiti’s first democratically elected president and his entire government in 2004. Robinson brings alive the powerful memory of the Haitian revolution in the souls of ordinary citizens and shows the boundless desire of all Haitians to chart their own destiny—free of foreign interference.
Jürgen Todenhöfer’s book sheds light on the other side of the story, reporting on how Iraqi people talk about the war when there are no heavily armed GIS in the vicinity, and when neither helicopters nor Humvees have been “cleaning” and securing the area for hours beforehand for politicians and press. Why Do You Kill? gives a voice to those whom Pentagon press officers never take their visitor delegations to see—members of the Iraqi resistance. The book attempts to explain why this resistance is not only fighting against American troops, but also against Al Qaeda terrorists and the foreign-backed private militias of Iraqi politicians. It clarifies the fundamental differences between resistance fighters and terrorists.

Prison Profiteers: Who Makes Money from Mass Incarceration

$5.00 • hb • New Press
9781595581679

Prison Profiteers looks at the private prison companies, investment banks, churches, guard unions, medical corporations, and other industries and individuals that benefit from this country’s experiment with mass imprisonment. It lets us follow the money from public to private hands and exposes how warlords, and rebel groups, and are typically exempt from public oversight. In this far-reaching study, Rolf Uessler exposes how government’s use of for-profit military organizations compromises justice, jeopardizes international stability, and escapes public scrutiny. The Servants of War reveals what happens when security and military operations are shielded from democratic processes and tied to profit, and concern for justice is overshadowed by the desire for financial gain.

In 1971, Attica’s prison yard massacre shocked the public, prisoners, and political leaders across the US. In Massachusetts, residents pledged to prevent such slaughter from ever happening there. Thus began a move for reform that eventually led to the prisoners at Walpole’s Massachusetts Correctional Institute winning control of its day-to-day operations. Critical to the work of prison abolitionists and transitional reformists alike, this ground-breaking history offers a real-life example of a prison solution many see only as theoretical.

The territory of the Omâmîwinini (Algonquin) peoples of southern Ontario is rich with natural resources and yet they have been economically and politically marginalized for centuries, as corporate and foreign interests profited from their land. In 2006, one community discovered that 26,000 acres had been staked for uranium exploration—land that they had never surrendered through treaty or negotiation. Facing a development process without consultation or environmental assessment, the Algonquin people began fighting the project with a broad-based coalition. They began telling their side of the story and conducting their own research—some of which this book contains.

Private military firms operate throughout the world, commissioned by governments, private industries, churches, guard unions, medical corporations, and other industries and individuals that benefit from this country’s experiment with mass imprisonment. It lets us follow the money from public to private hands and exposes how warlords, and rebel groups, and are typically exempt from public oversight. In this far-reaching study, Rolf Uessler exposes how government’s use of for-profit military organizations compromises justice, jeopardizes international stability, and escapes public scrutiny. The Servants of War reveals what happens when security and military operations are shielded from democratic processes and tied to profit, and concern for justice is overshadowed by the desire for financial gain.

LAW, Victoria Resistance Behind Bars: The Struggles of Incarcerated Women $17.95 • pb • PM Press 9781604860184

In 1974, women imprisoned at New York’s maximum-security prison at Bedford Hills staged what is known as the August Rebellion. Protesting the brutal beating of a fellow prisoner, the women fought off guards, holding seven of them hostage, and took over sections of the prison. While many have heard of the 1971 Attica prison uprising, the August Rebellion remains relatively unknown even in activist circles. Resistance Behind Bars is determined to challenge and change such oversights. Emphasizing women’s agency in resisting the conditions of their confinement, Resistance seeks to spark further discussion and research into the lives of incarcerated women and galvanize much-needed outside support for their struggles.

LEGAL ACTION FOR WOMEN A Chronology of Injustice: The Case for Winston Silcott’s Conviction to be Overturned $7.00 • pb • Legal Action for Women 9780951777572

Winston Silcott, one of the Tottenham Three, is serving a life sentence for the death of Anthony Smith even though evidence proves he acted in self-defense. This dramatic chronology of events lays out why his truthful defense was never put to the jury and why, after twelve years in prison, police and media are still pursuing him.

“From the age of 14 the police started on Winston, just for riding a bike without lights—from that day on they never stopped. They told me that if a pin dropped anywhere in Tottenham, they would come for Winston. People will now know the truth.”—Mrs Mary Silcott, Winston’s mother

This collection presents a two-decade sweep of writings by and about US political prisoners, and the campaigns to safeguard their rights and their freedom. In addition to an extensive section on the campaign to free Mumia Abu-Jamal, represented here are the radical movements that have most challenged the US empire from within. Contributors include: Linda M. Thurston, Dan Berger, Dhoruba Bin-Wahad, Bob Lederer, Terry Bisson, Laura Whitehorn, Safiya Bukhari, The SF 6, Angela Davis, Bo Brown, Bill Dunne, Susie Day, Luis Nieves Falcon, Ninotchka Rosca, Meg Starr, Assata Shakur, and many more.

PARENTI, Christian Lockdown America: Police and Prisons in the Age of Crisis $21.95 • pb • Verso 9781844672493

Why is criminal justice so central to American politics? Lockdown America not only documents the horrors and absurdities of militarized policing, prisons, a fortified border, and the federalization of the war on crime, it also explains the political and economic history behind the massive crackdown.

Written in accessible and vivid prose, Lockdown America will propel readers toward a deeper understanding of the links between crime and politics in a period of gathering economic crisis. A new edition: revised and expanded.

Is the capital of Latin America a small island at the mouth of the Hudson River? Will California soon hold the balance of power in Mexican national politics? Will Latinos reinvigorate the US labor movement? These are some of the provocative questions that Mike Davis explores in this fascinating account of the Latinization of the US urban landscape. Davis focuses on the great drama of how Latinos are attempting to translate their urban demographic ascendance into effective social power. Fully updated throughout, and with new chapters on the urban Southwest and the exploding counter-migration of Anglos to Mexico, Magical Urbanism is essential reading for anyone who wants to grasp the future of urban America. From Barbados to Brooklyn, from Jamaica to England, two accounts of girlhood in the Caribbean, the upheaval of leaving, and the conflicts of being an immigrant.

From the late-seventeenth century—the era in which Du Bois located the emergence of “whiteness”—through the American revolution and the emancipatory Civil War, to the civil-rights movement and the emergence of the American empire, David Roediger reveals how race did far more than persist as an exception in a progressive national history. Roediger examines how race intersected all that was dynamic and progressive in US history, from democracy and economic development to migration and globalization. Exploring the evidence that the USA will become a majority “nonwhite” nation in the next fifty years, this masterful history shows how race remains at the heart of American life in the twenty-first century.

How Race Survived US History: From Settlement and Slavery to the Obama Phenomenon
$20.95 • hb • Verso
9781844672752

From his experiences as a white anti-racist activist and white American, Wise has crafted the first history of what it means to be part of the “majority” in America. Combining the emotion of personal stories with insights gleaned from fifteen years as an educator, White Like Me examines the ways in which whites reap the benefits of “racial preferences”—whether or not they actively engage in racism. By critically assessing the magnitude of racial privilege and its costs—to people of color and whites as well—Wise provides an elegant and provocative memoir relevant to activists, educators, and average everyday folks seeking to understand why race continues to shape life in the United States.

Speaking Treason Fluently: Anti-Racist Reflections from an Angry White Male
$16.95 • pb • Soft Skull Press
9781593762070

Speaking Treason Fluently is an examination of the way that racial privilege shapes the lives of white Americans, in every realm of daily life: employment, education, housing, criminal justice, and elsewhere. Drawing on a wide range of anecdotal information and scholarly works, Wise demonstrates the numerous ways that racism not only burdens people of color, but also harms whites in the long run, and makes progressive social change less likely. These sixteen essays cover a range of pressing topics, including white complacency and ignorance surrounding the disaster in New Orleans, racial tension in the Duke LaCrosse trial, the controversy over performance enhancing drugs in professional baseball, and the unbalanced Eurocentric version of history that is taught in America’s schools.

FROM AN ANGRY WHITE MAN
TIM WISE

How does this relate to the previous text? The previous text discusses various books and authors, their works, and their contributions to the understanding of race and politics in the United States. The new information focuses on the American landscape, Latinization of cities, and the political economy of racism. The text also touches on personal experiences and reflections on race, highlighting the legacy of racism and its ongoing impact. The books mentioned cover a range of topics, including the Latinization of cities, the role of Latinos and Whites in the political landscape, and the effects of racism on society.

How can these insights be incorporated into an essay on race and urbanization? The insights from the previous text can be incorporated into an essay on race and urbanization by discussing the Latinization of cities and how this process has been both a challenge and an opportunity for Latinos. The text also highlights the importance of understanding the political economy of racism and how it affects urban life. The personal experiences and reflections on race provide a nuanced understanding of how racism shapes the lives of individuals and communities. The essays and books mentioned in the text can be used as examples of how to analyze and understand the complex issues related to race and urbanization.
In 1957, a few experimental European groups came together to form the Situationist International. Over the next decade the situationists developed an increasingly incisive critique of the global "spectacle-commodity system" and of its bureaucratic leftist pseudo-opposition, and their new methods of agitation helped trigger the May 1968 revolt in France. Since then, situationist theories and tactics have continued to inspire radical currents in dozens of countries all over the world. The SI Anthology, generally recognized as the most comprehensive collection of situationist writings in English, presents a chronological survey of the group's activities and development as reflected in articles from its French journal and in a variety of leaflets, pamphlets, film scripts, and internal documents. A greatly revised, and expanded edition, with over 100 pages of new material.

This essay is a brief examination into surrealistic activities in 1968, triangulated between Prague, Paris, and Chicago and anchored to two key surrealist texts, "The Prague Platform" and "Situation of Surrealism in the US." The author shows how surrealism responded to and participated in the electric events of '68, including the collaboration between Chicago surrealists and some of the more stanchly libertarian Marxist elements of the wide-ranging SDS movement. Historians will argue about the degree to which all the global rebellions of 1968 can be linked together or what (if any) catalysts triggered the transnational movements, but there can be no mistaking the pronounced cross-pollination of surrealistic ideas and activities in '68.

El Fuego y La Palabra: Una Historia del Movimiento Zapatista

Esta es la historia no autorizada del episodio ascenso de una de las fuerzas más poderosas y secretas surgidas del “complejo militar-industrial” estadounidense. En ella se recorre la trayectoria de Blackwater desde sus inicios — en 1996, cuando un grupo de ejecutivos visionarios pusieron en marcha un campamento privado de instrucción militar “para satisfacer la demanda prevista de subcontrataciones de funciones estatales” — hasta las calles ensangrentadas de Faluya. La actual administración de la Casa Blanca califica el papel de Blackwater como una auténtica recolución en temas militares. Sin embargo, para otros muchos, su auge presagía una terrible amenaza para la democracia estadounidense.

subvert is to revolt against any system—economic, political, cultural or religious—whereby humanity is no more than an object to be manipulated, exploited, and dominated. To subvert means to be realistic, to demand the impossible. With Human Autonomy as its Subject, with Dignity as the Purpose of the Human Subject, with Solidarity as the Purpose of Human Subjectivity in Action, this collection examines the socio-historical constitution of capitalism and its dynamic. It analyses the contemporary means of subversion-in-movement, and assesses the trajectory of struggles in the Americas, from Argentina to Mexico, from Bolivia to the United States.

Finally we have a book on so-called “intelligent design” that gets to the heart of the matter rather than devoting all its energies to a point-by-point refutation of that doctrine. While providing a sophisticated modern understanding of the complexities of organisms and the biological processes that have resulted in life as it has evolved, the authors of Critique of Intelligent Design never lose sight of the real issue, which is the struggle between materialism and supernaturalism as an explanation for the world of phenomena. Theirs is the model on which all discussions of intelligent design should be based.

This is a very student-friendly introduction to this influential and widely studied figure in postcolonial and cultural studies. Born in 1925 on the French Caribbean island of Martinique, Fanon passionately identified with Algeria’s struggle for independence. With the publication of “Black Skin, White Masks” (1952) and of “The Wretched of the Earth” (1961), he became the leading voice in black liberationist writing. With the release of The Fanon Reader, it is now possible to access all his important writings in one source. This book includes extracts from Fanon’s major works.

HADDOUR contextualizes Fanon—the man and his work—and provides a comprehensive summary of critical perspectives on his writings.

Widely praised as an exciting, insightful exposition and development of Marx’s critique of political economy, Harvey updates his classic text with a discussion of the turmoil in world markets today. In his analyses of “fictitious capital” and “uneven geographical development,” Harvey takes the reader step by step through layers of crisis formation, beginning with Marx’s controversial argument concerning the falling rate of profit, moving through crises of credit and finance, and closing with a timely analysis of geo-political and geographical considerations. The Limits to Capital provides one of the best theoretical guides to the contradictory forms found in the historical and geographical dynamics of capitalist development.

These insurgent essays develop and critique some of the cultural and artistic projects that first arose with the worldwide wave of protests, around the turn of the millennium, against what the global South has long called neoliberalism. Dissent and the refusal of a programmed existence return continually to the street, but they are folded in the intimacy of the imagination. Complex discourses and elaborate fictions pass through images, works, ideas and wild scenarios that hover around the edges of reality; museums, cinemas, books and theatres provide one of the best theoretical guides to the contradictory forms found in the historical and geographical dynamics of capitalist development.

Hated of Democracy
$16.95 • hb • Verso
9781844672865
Jacques Rancière argues that the West can no longer simply exalt the virtues of democracy by contrasting it with the horrors of totalitarianism. As certain governments are exporting democracy by brute force, and a reactionary strand in mainstream political opinion is willing to abandon civil liberties and destroy collective values of equality, Rancière explains how democracy—government by all—attacks any form of power based on the superiority of an elite. Hence the fear, and consequently the hatred, of democracy amongst the new ruling class. In a compelling and timely analysis, Hated of Democracy rethinks the subversive power of this democratic ideal.

Joshua Ploeg was once the singer for such bands as Lords of Lightspeed, Behead the Prophet, and the Mulkitoa Faeries. Limprist even wrote a tribute song to him as a gay punk pioneer (“Ode”). Now he is a touring vegan chef employing the same skills and ingenuity that he learned from punk. Among the many recipes in his new cookbook you will find: Spicy Strawberry Applesauce in Pastry Cups with Sweet and Salty Candied Hazelnuts, Roasted Garlic and Red Bean Pate with Herb Sauce and Mushroom Crackers, Fried Veggie Cakes with Sambuca Sauce and Fig Relish, Straw Mushroom and Black Sesame Rolls with Spicy Mustard Sauce and Sweet Black Vinegar-Soy Sauce, Curried Veggie “Chin” Dumplings with Orange-Tomato Chutney and Wasabi Cream Sauce, and Red Wine Sorbet with Chocolate Crostini, Berries in Liqueur and Chocolate Balsamic Reduction.

SPLINT, Ryan & Vanessa

HDDSAY is a finely illustrated and designed collection of recipes that aren’t afraid of spices and are great for those into easy-to-find ingredients that don’t taste like sawdust. The Dirty South is a unique take on southern cooking, vegan style, with some tasty delectables—especially for those not afraid of garlic or baking. A 128-page book sizzling with great cooking ideas and recipes.

STEELE, Jae
Get It Ripe: A Fresh Take on Vegan Cooking and Living
$23.95 • pb • Arsenal Pulp Press
9781551523240

Get It Ripe is a vegan cookbook for the 21st century, with an emphasis on holistic living and whole food (i.e. unprocessed and unrefined) ingredients. Jae Steele is a registered holistic nutritionist; she has also been a professional vegan baker, and worked on organic farms on both the east and west coasts of Canada. Her life experiences, and her love of vegan whole foods, are at the heart of Get It Ripe, which not only features uncomplicated yet delicious animal-free recipes, but advice and information on various aspects of holistic vegan living, including special diets (all recipes are wheat-free), simple steps for cleaning and detoxing, building your own kitchen compost, information on ethical consumerism, and the connections among mind, body, and spirit.

TERRY, Bryant
Vegan Soul Kitchen: Fresh, Healthy, and Creative African-American Cuisine
$18.95 • pb • Da Capo Press
9780738212289

Vegan Soul Kitchen is the latest book by Oakland-based eco chef, food justice activist, and author Bryant Terry. Reinterpreting popular dishes from African and Caribbean countries as well as his favorite childhood dishes, Terry reinvents American African and Southern cuisine—capitalizing on the complex flavors of the tradition, without the animal products. Includes recipes for: Black-Eyed Pea Fritters with Hot Pepper Sauce; Jamaican Veggie Patties; Double Mustard Greens & Roasted Yam Soup; Cajun-Creole-Spiced Tempeh Pieces with Creamy Grits; Citrus and Spice Pickled Watermelon Rind; Caramelized Grapefruit, Avocado, and Watercress Salad with Grapefruit Vinaigrette; Sweet Cornmeal-Coconut Butter Drop Biscuits; and Molasses-Vanilla Ice Cream with Candied Walnuts.

“Bryant Terry transforms age-old black culinary traditions into what soul food ought to be—food that sustains our bodies, our earth, our sense of community, and our desire for the delicious.”—Robin D.G. Kelley

The CIA Makes Science Fiction Unexciting #5: The Things You May Not Know About Iran/Contra
$2.00 • pam • Microcosm
9780979866587

The latest installment of this pseudo-anonymously penned, informational zine discusses at length the details of Iran/Contra. In 1988 the President was at the helm—secretly selling weapons to our enemies in Iran and then illegally using the profits to fund the anti-Sandinista rebel Contras, in Nicaragua. Relive the excitement—the cake in the shape of a key, world leaders lying through their teeth, and everyone denying responsibility and knowledge that it was even going on in the first place!

To celebrate their thirteenth anniversary, the folks at Microcosm put together this compilation zine of work from their authors and artists. It’s a super cheapo deal so you may check out everything you may have missed or find your new favorite artist. Includes a little something from virtually everyone Microcosm has published before, along with new work from Al Burian, Liz Baillie, Keith Rosson, John Isaacson, Naté Beaty, Cristy Road, and more!

CRABB, Cindy
Doris 26
$2.00 • pam • Cindy Crabb
9781934620254

Doris 26 is R, S, and T in the alphabet. Covered within are Robin, shy, social ecology, and truth. “Robin” is about loving someone, even though you may speak different languages, and the nature of hopefulness. “Shy” is a comic about being a quiet punk girl in a subculture that expects you to be loud and bold. “Social ecology” is a quick primer on the movement, and “truth” is about the differences between the stories we tell others versus the reality of what actually happened—the ways in which we change stories to make them easier to tell.

MACPHEE, Josh
Pound the Pavement #10
$14.00 • pam • Just Seeds
No ISBN
Approximately 200 protest images of George Bush’s face, or slanderous spray-paint scrawl invoking his name. The extensive cataloguing within this zine had been 7 years in the making, or since that dark day Bush became president. Josh Macphee has captured images from all over the U.S as well as included photo’s from other countries to document people’s widespread resistance to the Bush Regime! In a brief introduction, Josh challenges us to consider whether these images give us control, or whether they have control over us. Issue 10 is a thorough and important documentation of our version of American history.

Quarterly magazine about the grassroots global car-free movement and sustainable transportation alternatives.

Direct Action - $4.00
An anarchist magazine published by Solidarity Federation, British section of the International Workers Association (IWA), an organization of workers that seeks to destroy capitalism and the state.

Earth First! - $4.50
The voice of the radical environmental movement, with reports on direct action, environmental preservation, and the state of the movement.

Fifth Estate - $4.00
An anti-authoritarian magazine of ideas and action; each issue deals with a different theme.

Fire to the Prisons - $5.00
Fire to the Prisons is an insurrectionary anarchist quarterly focusing on anti-prison and prisoner support content, but also includes articles to inspire opposition to this cold world. The latest issue contains analysis of recent events in Greece and Oakland; the struggle against fascism in prisons; and both a history of, and news on, prisoners and prison resistance.

Hip Mama - $3.95
A magazine bursting with political commentary and ribald tales from the front lines of motherhood.

Journal of Aesthetics and Protest - $10.00
A self-described “weirdo thinktank,” aiming to activate culture with smart, anti-authoritarian discussions.

Left Turn - $5.00
The magazine of a national network of activists engaged in exposing and fighting the consequences of global capitalism and imperialism.

Maximum Rock N Roll - $4.00

Show Me the Money - $3.00
An informative zine collecting economic and political articles from a range of publications.

Social Anarchism - $6.00
A biannual journal of community self-reliance, direct participation in decision-making, respect for nature, and nonviolent paths to peace and justice.

Spread - $5.95
A quarterly magazine by and for sex workers and those who support their rights.

The RAG - $6.00
A fantastic ‘zine from some folks organizing in Dublin, Ireland. Here’s what the writers and producers have to say about their work:

“The RAG is a magazine produced by a diverse group of anarcha-feminist women in Dublin. We are all feminists, united in our recognition that women’s subordination exists. Our struggle needs to be fought alongside the struggle against other forms of oppression, not treated as an afterthought or as a distraction. We are all anarchists, united in our belief for the need to create alternatives to this capitalist, patriarchal society wherein all are dominated and exploited. .

Upping the Anti - $10.00
A radical journal of theory and action which provides a space to address and discuss unresolved questions and dynamics within the anti-capitalist, anti-oppression, and anti-imperialist politics of today’s radical left in Canada.

World War 3 Illustrated - $5.00
A cutting-edge, politically charged comics anthology magazine.

Z Magazine - $4.95
An independent monthly magazine dedicated to resisting injustice, defending against repression, and creating liberty.

KULCHYSKI, Peter
The Red Indians: Aboriginal Resistance to Capitalism in Canada Now and Then
$10.95 • pb • 9781894037259

The Red Indians is a theoretically nuanced, frank, and accessible book about Aboriginal resistance in Canada, historical and contemporary. In the manner of Eduardo Galeano’s famous trilogy Memories of Fire, the book uncovers a critical, living history of conflict. The book introduces readers to the history of colonial oppression in Canada, and looks at contemporary examples of resistance, such as that of the Anishnaboe of Grassy Narrows. Kulchyski clarifies the unique and specific politics of Aboriginal resistance in Canada.

LESTER, David
The Gruesome Acts of Capitalism
$10.95 • pb • 9781894037293

Located at the intersection of the statistical and the artistic, this catalog of corporate horrors—poverty, exploitation, and injustice—is a damning indictment of capitalism created with both love and rage. One in five American children live in poverty. One hundred thirty-five million women worldwide live in poverty. One hundred thirty-five million women and girls have undergone genital mutilation. In Bangladesh, an estimated 500,000 people are slaves. The amount of money spent on ice cream in Europe would be enough to provide reproductive health for all women in developing countries...unfortunately, there’s a lot more to learn. Illustrated by the author, with an introduction by his Mecca Normal bandmate Jean Smith.

McNALLY, David
Another World Is Possible: Globalization and Anti-Capitalism
$28.95 • pb • 9781894037273

What are the roots of the anti-corporate globalization movement, and where is it going? Another World Is Possible traces the movement’s progress since 1994 and makes the case for the continued development of its anti-capitalist analysis and activism. Drawing on the experiences of radical movements of workers, peasants, and indigenous peoples in many countries, McNally sketches out an alternative, deeply radical politics based on diversity, internationalism, and moving beyond commodification and the market. Considerably revised and updated, this second edition is almost twice the size of the original!

SIMPSON, Leanne
Lighting the Eighth Fire: The Liberation, Resurgence, and Protection of Indigenous Nations
$21.95 • pb • 9781894037334

This remarkable collection of essays by leading Indigenous scholars focuses on the themes of freedom, liberation, and Indigenous resurgence as they relate to the land. They analyze treaties, political culture, governance, “environmental issues,” economy and radical social movements, from an anti-colonial Indigenous perspective. Editor Leanne Simpson has solicited Indigenous writers that place Indigenous freedom as their highest political goal, while turning to the knowledge, traditions, and culture of specific Indigenous nations to achieve that goal.

YATES, Michael D.
In and Out of the Working Class
$24.95 • pb • 9781894037358

In a series of autobiographical essays written on the border between fiction and non-fiction, a radical economist considers what it means to live in and through the theories about class that have informed his work and teaching. Yates seeks to bring the complexity and ambiguity of class, racial, and gender identity into focus through his own life. Yates writes of the erosion of self-confidence and the anxiety caused by the everyday fears of working-class families. He speaks honestly of the ambivalence and heartbreak caused by upward economic mobility, while relating in a deeply personal way to the structures of class inequality in American life.

BERARDI, Franco “Bifo”; JACQUEMET, Marco; & VITALI, Gianfranco

Ethereal Shadows: Communications and Power in Contemporary Italy
$12.95 • pb • 9781570271816

Focusing on Italian “videocracy,” Ethereal Shadows documents the emergence of the first Italian media mogul, Silvio Berlusconi, and his rise and fall from political power. It also explores Italian media activism through three case studies: a discussion of the first autonomous free radio station, Radio Alice (broadcasting in Bologna between 1977 and 1979); a review of Italian Internet activism focusing on the site Rekombinant.org (launched in 2000); and a chronicle of the emergence of OrFeoTV in 2002, the first illegal micro-TV station in Italy.

Where conscience informs praxis and action infects consciousness, T.A.Z. continues to worm its way into above-ground culture. Second edition, with an introductory essay by the author and additional appendical materials.

KEMPTON, Richard

Provo: Amsterdam’s Anarchist Revolt
$14.95 • pb • 9781570271816

Provo: Amsterdam’s Anarchist Revolt is the first book-length English-language study of Holland’s legendary insurrectional movement. In an introduction and eight chapters, Richard Kempton narrates the rise and fall of Provo from early Dutch “Happenings” staged in 1962 through to the so-called “Death of Provo” in 1967, including Robert Jasper Grootveld’s anarchist anti-cancer campaigns, the riots against Princess Beatrix’s marriage to an ex-Nazi, and the famous White Bicycle program. In seven appendices, he comments on parallel contemporary and near-contemporary movements. This unique book is based on extensive primary research and includes a selective bibliography of the Dutch-language sources.

MARCOS, Subcomandante

Conversations With Durito
$16.95 • pb • 9781570271182

In 1994, from the Lacandon jungle, Zapatista Subcomandante Marcos replied to a ten-year-old girl who had sent him a drawing. In his response, Marcos conjured up a first fable introducing the beetle and knight-errant “Don Durito de la Lacandon.” The ensuing output of Durito-related communiqués and tales comprise a broad discourse of the Zapatistas’ struggle, revealing their organizational history, their critique of traditional politics, and the reasons for their opposition to neoliberalism.

We Will Return in the Whirlwind: Black Radical Organizations 1960 –1975

$18.00 • pb • 9780882863146

$26.00 • hb • 9780882863153

Dr. Muhammad Ahmad was national field chairman of the Revolutionary Action Movement during the mid-60s and founder of the African People's Party in the 1970s. He has worked closely with Malcolm X, Amiri Baraka, Stokely Carmichael, and Robert and Mabel Williams, among others. Who better to pen a major assessment of some of the most important Black radical organizations of the 60s? Here is a study of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), the Black Panther Party (BPP), the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM), and the League of Revolutionary Black Workers (LRBW), that only he could have done.

The Big Red Songbook: 250-Plus IWW Songs!

$24.00 • pb • 9780882862774

$36.00 • hb • 9780882862781

The most comprehensive collection of rebel workers’ songs and poems ever compiled in English, this volume includes ALL the songs that appeared in the IWW’s celebrated “little red songbook” from 1909 through 1973, plus dozens of others that never made it into the songbook. Here are the songs of Joe Hill, T-Bone Slim, Dick Brazier, Ralph Chaplin, Covington Hall, and other Wobbly legends; for the first time anywhere, a good selection of songs by women Wobblies and songwriters from other continents; and a section on variants and parodies of IWW songs. Plus a wealth of extra material and an afterword by Utah Phillips!

ROSEMOND, Franklin

Jacques Vaché and the Roots of Surrealism

$20.00 • pb • 9780882863214

A bold jaywalker at the crossroads of history, and an ardent exemplar of freedom and revolt, Vaché challenged all prevailing values, from church and state to white supremacy, and was especially gifted at the fine art of ridiculing the dominant ethics and aesthetics of the emerging age of imperialism. Enscripted into the French Army in World War One, he soon became not only the unsurpassed champion of “Desertion from Within,” but also the master of “Disservice with Diligence.” This book chronicles Vaché’s boundless originality, creative nonconformity, revolutionary morality, and his all-out turn-the-world-upside-down hilarity.

ROSEMOND, Franklin

Joe Hill: The IWW & the Making of a Revolutionary Working Class Counterculture

$20.00 • pb • 9780882862644

A monumental work, expansive in scope, and not only the life, times, and culture of that most famous of the Wobblies (songwriter, poet, hobo, thinker, humorist, martyr), but crucially—and in great detail—the issues that he raised then—capitalism, white supremacy, gender, religion, wilderness, law, prison, industrial unionism—and their enduring relevance, and impact in the century since his death. Collected too is all his art, plus scores of other illustrations featuring Hill-inspired art by IWWs from Ralph Chaplin to Carlos Cortez, as well as other labor artists.

SINCLAIR, Upton

The Flivver King: A Story of Ford-America

$14.00 • pb • 9780882860541

The Flivver King is history as it ought to be written—from the bottom up and the top down, with monumental sensitivity to the compromise and conflict between the two extremes. Its two stories—those of Henry Ford and Ford-worker Abner Shutt, unfold side by side, indeed dialectically. They are, in the end, one story: the saga of class and culture in “Ford America.” Originally written in 1937 to aid the United Automobile Workers’ organizing drive, The Flivver King answers the question “Why do we need a union?” with quiet eloquence.

CRIMETHINC

Evasion
$7.95 • pb • 9780970910110
This second offering from the CrimethInc. collective is a collection of stories and anecdotes from within and around the margins of drop-out culture. One person’s travelogue of thievery and trespassing across the country; a document of the literal and metaphorical reclamation of an individual’s life and the spaces surrounding him as he scams, squats, dumpsters, trainhops, and shoplifts a life worth living and a world worth fighting for.

“Everything fell into place when we decided our lives were to be lived. Life serves the risk taker...”

CRIMETHINC

Expect Resistance: A Field Manual
$11.95 • pb • No ISBN
Expect Resistance is not one but three books, each of which can be a complete work by itself. The first book, printed in standard black ink, continues the inquiry into modern life and its discontents begun in Days of War, Nights of Love. The second book, in red ink, is a composite account, related by three narrators, of the adventures and tribulations that inevitably ensue when people pursuing their dreams enter into conflict with the world as it is. Together these comprise a third book, an exploration of the complex relationship between ideals and reality. Expect Resistance is a field manual for a field on which all manuals are useless; a meditation on individual transformation and collective resistance in disastrous times.

CRIMETHINC

Recipes for Disaster
$15.00 • pb • 9780970910141
This CrimethInc. book is the action guide—the direct action guide. Includes a lot of info, including affinity group, wheat-pasting, coalition building, hijacking events, mental health, pie-throwing, shoplifting, stenciling, supporting survivors of domestic violence, surviving a felony trial, torches, and a whole bunch more. Incredible design and lots of graphics give it that hip situ feel. Loads to read, to think about, and to do. At 650 pages, you could always throw the damn book at a suitable target. What are you waiting for?

Off The Map
A punk rock vision quest told in the tradition of the anarchist travel story, Off The Map is narrated by two young women as they discard their maps, fears, anything resembling a plan, and set off to Europe. Wandering across that continent, the dozens of vignettes are the details of the whole—a squatted castle surrounded by tourists on the Spanish coast, a philosophizing businessman on the highways of France, a placa full of los crustos in Barcelona...Originating as a zine given out to a few friends in Prague, this has now received the Crimethinc lavish production treatment, complete with photographs, illustrations, and a cover featuring original artwork by Nikki McClure.
In 1897, while Malatesta was hiding from the police, he regularly went to a café in Ancona, Italy. He had shaved off his usual beard, but was still taking a risk—especially as this wasn’t an anarchist café, but had a variety of customers including the local policeman. The conversations he had in this café became the basis for the dialogs that make up this book. For the first time in English, Malatesta critically analyzes the arguments for and against anarchism.

Originally published as a pamphlet in 1891, this is Malatesta’s explanation of the fundamental tenets of anarchism, and a persuasive argument for his version of it. Still one of the best introductory texts available.

First published in 1929, this book answers some of the charges made against the anarchist movement and presents the case for communist anarchism clearly and intelligently. It has long been regarded as a classic statement of the movement’s goals and methods.
BIEL, Joe
If It Ain’t Cheap, It Ain’t Punk: 15 years of Plan-it X Records
$12.99 • pb • 9781934620079
Over the last fourteen years, Plan-it X Records helped foster a huge cultural revolution—uniting geographically divided DIY punk communities under one umbrella. With a united ethic and common goals, this scene has grown to a critical mass while some bands flirted with mainstream success and others choose to remain firmly rooted in the basement punk scene. This original documentary climaxes in the 2006 Festival where punks from all over the world met up in Bloomington, IN for a week of music and skillsharing. Original footage of This Bike is a Pipe Bomb, Japanther, Defiance, Ohio, Ghost Mice, One Reason, Operation: Cliff Clavin, Soophie Nun Squad, and more!

PLOEG, Joshua
In Search of the Lost Taste
$9.00 • pb • 9781934620014
Joshua Ploeg was once the singer for such bands as Lords of Lightspeed, Behead the Prophet, and the Mulkiteo Faeries. Now he is a touring vegan chef employing the same skills and ingenuity that he learned from punk. Among the many recipes in his new cookbook you will find: Spicy Strawberry Applesauce in Pastry Cups with Sweet and Salty Candied Hazelnuts, Roasted Garlic and Red Bean Pate with Herb Sauce and Mushroom Crackers, Fried Veggie Cakes with Sambuca Sauce and Fig Relish, Straw Mushroom and Black Sesame Rolls with Spicy Mustard Sauce and Sweet Black Vinegar-Soy Sauce, Curried Veggie “Chkn” Dumplings with Orange-Tomato Chutney and Wasabi Cream Sauce, and Red Wine Sorbet with Chocolate Crostini, Berries in Liqueur and Chocolate Balsamic Reduction.

SPLINT, Ryan & Vanessa
Hot Damn and Hell Yeah / The Dirty South
$9.00 • pb • 9780977055708
Two great vegan cookbooks combined: an anthology of Vanessa’s “The Dirty South,” issues 1-3, and Ryan Splint’s Australian masterpiece “Hot Damn and Hell Yeah.” “HD&HY” is a finely illustrated and designed collection of recipes that aren’t afraid of spices and are great for those into easy-to-find ingredients that don’t taste like sawdust. “The Dirty South” is a unique take on southern cooking, vegan style, with some tasty delectibles—especially for those not afraid of garlic or baking. A book sizzling with great cooking ideas and recipes.

DEBORD, Guy
Society of the Spectacle
$16.95 • pb • 9780946061129
The Das Kapital of the 20th century. An essential text, and the main theoretical work of the Situationists. Few works of political and cultural theory have been as enduringly provocative. From its publication amid the social upheavals of the 1960s up to the present, the volatile theses of this book have decisively transformed debates on the shape of modernity, capitalism, and everyday life in the late twentieth century. This edition is the Ken Knabb translation, with introduction from the translator.

PARRY, Richard
The Bonnot Gang: The Story of the French Illegalists
$13.95 • pb • 9780946061044
This is the story of the infamous Bonnot Gang: the most notorious French anarchists ever, and the inventors of the motorized get-away. It is the story of how the anarchist taste for illegality developed into illegalism—the theory that theft is liberating. A gripping historical thriller, Parry narrates their lives and background—a Paris of riots, strikes, savage repression, a stronghold of foreign exiles and home-grown revolutionaries, and Victor Serge and l’anarchie, the individualist weekly. Their robberies, daring and violent, would give them a lasting notoriety in France. Their deaths, as spectacular as their lives, would make them a legend amongst revolutionaries the world over.

GRAY, Chris (ed)
Leaving the 20th Century: The Incomplete Work of the Situationist International
$24.95 • pb • 9780946061150
First published in 1974, Leaving The 20th Century was the first collection of Situationist writing in English. Chris Gray, its editor, was himself a member of the SI. Long out of print, it has gained an enormous reputation. This new, lavish, oversize edition keeps the original provocativeness, in easy translations, along with SI’s cut and paste graphics, poster-art, and cartoons. It stands as a remarkable, and eminently accessible, introduction to a remarkable (and oft-times superficially, at least, inaccessible) revolutionary project.

READ, Simon
Everything You Ever Wanted to Know About Anarchism, But Were Afraid to Ask...
$8.00 • pb • 9780946061105
An excellent, short, contemporary introduction to anarchism, addressing both its basic ideas and some of the thornier questions in life (Don’t we need the police to catch criminals? Aren’t people naturally selfish? Don’t we need some kind of management?, etc.).

HARPER, Clifford (ed)
Prolegomena: To a Study of the Return of the Repressed in History
$10.95 • pb • 9780946061326
“I don’t want to do anything subversive—I just want to destroy capitalism.” A collection of “ultra” prose and poetry from 300 years of outrage, passion, sarcasm, wit, quotes, rants, declarations, and blood-curdling war cries. This is utterly brilliant, and here it is finally reprinted (from an obscure edition first published in the 60s) in a new edition edited, introduced, and illustrated by Clifford Harper. “Death to middle-class society, and long live anarchism!”

VANEIGEM, Raoul
The Revolution of Everyday Life
$23.95 • pb • Rebel Press • 9780946061013
The essential handbook for all of us still alienated by modern capitalism. Together with Debord, Vaneigem was the main theorist of Situationist ideas. He has the added benefit of being eminently more readable! Writing in his poetic style, Vaneigem attacks the alienation of capitalist life not only at work but also in our “free” time. An incredible work, more potent now than ever.

Putting the Movement Back into Civil Rights Teaching
$25.00  •  pb  •  9781878554155
As one of the most commonly taught stories of people’s struggles for social justice, the Civil Rights Movement has the capacity to help students develop a critical analysis of United States history and strategies for change. However, the empowering potential is often lost in a trivial pursuit of names and dates. Putting the Movement Back into Civil Rights Teaching provides lessons and articles for K–12 educators on how to go beyond a “heroes” approach to the Civil Rights Movement.

SANTANA, Jocelyn; GLASSER, Ruth; & GALLIN, Anne (eds)
Caribbean Connections: The Dominican Republic
$16.00  •  pb  •  9781878554192
An incredible, informative, collection of essays, oral histories, poetry, fiction, analysis, interviews, primary documents, beautifully illustrated timelines and maps and interactive & interdisciplinary teaching aids on the history, politics, and culture of the fourth largest Latino community in the United States. Authors include Julia Alvarez, Edwidge Danticat, Junot Diaz, Rhina P. Espaillat, Pedro Mir, Josefina Baez and Sherezada Vicioso (Chiqui).

OKAZAWA-REY, Margo (ed)
Beyond Heroes And Holidays: A Practical Guide To K–12 Anti-Racist, Multicultural Education And Staff Development
$35.00  •  pb  •  9781878554178
An incredible, informative collection of essays, articles, analysis, interviews, primary documents and interactive & interdisciplinary teaching aids on civil rights, movement building, and what it means for all of the inhabitants of the planet. With sections on Critical Literacy, The Arts, Mathematics, Technology, Science, Geography, Language, School-Wide Activities, Holidays and Heritage, Talking Back, Early Childhood, Readings and Teaching Aids. Packed into nearly 450 oversize pages are photographs, songs, statements, and work from the likes of such great writers, historians, and activists as Bill Bigelow, James Loewen, Peggy Mcintosh, Luis Rodriguez, Kai James, Clem Marshall, Marta Urquilla, Julie Bisson, the editors and dozens more. What a treasure trove. And what a vital (and useful) tool.
Thanks for ordering! Here's some information we've compiled to make this as smooth and unsurprising as possible. Of course, feel free to get in touch if you have any questions.

It is vital that you put your name and address on each order. We don't care what name you use when you order (and appreciate the nom du plume!), but it would make our lives easier if you either use the same name on each order or note previously used names. Most orders go out in 2–3 days, but occasional delays of up to a week occur. There are also occasions when delays occur due to titles being out of stock. Your patience is appreciated.

We prefer that you use the order form on the opposite page. Please cut it out or copy it. If you run out of space, complete your order on a piece of paper, and attach it to the order form. On the order form, please list the title, author, price, and shipping costs (see below) and the total. Friends of AK Press (see Page 1) deduct 20% of your pre-shipping total. California residents add 9.75% sales tax to the post-shipping total. Maryland residents add 6%. Those with web access can order from our secure web site (we'll do the math!) using a credit card, or alternatively, can print a copy of the order from the site and mail it in with payment. Customers ordering by fax, email, or phone may only pay by credit card.

If you send a payment by mail, please list alternatives (if you are easy in that regard), as titles you choose may be temporarily unavailable. If alternatives are not listed, we will credit your account and will send the books as soon as we have them back in stock.

ALL SALES ARE FINAL. NO RETURNS ON MERCHANDISE ORDERED BY MAIL OR THROUGH THE WEBSITE.

PAYMENT

All orders by mail must be accompanied with the appropriate payment. Payments can be made by check or money order (in US funds only), made out to “AK PRESS,” or by credit card. We take Visa and Mastercard by mail, fax, e-mail, phone (weekdays, 9:30 to 6), and on our web site. For those ordering by credit card, we require your credit card number, expiration date, name as it appears on the card, shipping address, as well as (and this is very important) your accurate billing address (if it’s different from your shipping). We will also accept payment in cash, but this is sent at your own risk.

INTERNATIONAL ORDERING—PLEASE NOTE: Overseas customers are advised to pay by money order in US funds, or by credit card. For checks drawn in currencies other than US dollars, an additional charge will be added to cover our bank’s extortionate charges. If this is your only method of payment, get in touch and we’ll tell you how much you must add to your check to cover these charges.

PRISONERS PLEASE NOTE: Please be aware that different prisons have different regulations about what items you can order. You are responsible to know those regulations and order accordingly. If items you order are rejected by the prison and returned to us, we will issue a credit memo for your purchase. However, if the prison does not return the order, we cannot issue a credit. Unfortunately, you order at your own risk. While we cannot afford to send free books to prisoners, we do offer a 30% discount on all items shipped directly to prisoners (ordered by you or your people outside). For free books, contact the Prisoners Literature Project c/o Bound Together, 1369 Haight Street, San Francisco CA 94117.

Wholesale, specialty, and other businesses: Please write or call us for terms.

NEW ACCOUNTS
New trade customers must pre-pay their first order. Upon receipt of a credit application and references, credit will usually be extended. Credit terms are 30 days, with initial credit equal to the amount of the first order.

SHIPPING
Within the US, we ship by UPS unless instructed otherwise. Please supply street address when ordering. For rush orders, specify date needed and method of shipment preferred.

BACKORDERS
Unavailable titles are all backordered with a 90 day cancellation date, unless you indicate otherwise. Please let us know if you would like backorders shipped as the books are received or consolidated with other backorders, or if you’d prefer they were sent with your next order.

RETURNS
No authorization is necessary for returns made up to one year from original invoice date. Returns older than one year must have written permission, which will be granted at our discretion (typically based on whether or not we still carry the item). All returns must be in saleable condition. Stickered, ink-priced, shop-worn, or otherwise damaged and un-resaleable books will NOT be credited. Returns damaged en route will not be credited—PLEASE PACK CAREFULLY (they shouldn’t shift around in the box). You have the option of having these unacceptable returned books returned to you. They’re still yours! Books are fully credited with invoice information, and only 50% without. It is in your interest to dig up the invoice number and pack the books carefully. Credit is applied to future purchases or current balance, and must be used within one year. We do not give cash refunds. Please ensure that the books you want to return were supplied by us.

The shipping address for all returns is:
AK PRESS
attn: RETURNS
674-A 23rd St.
OAKLAND, CA  94612  USA

CLAIMS
In case of damage or other fulfillment error, we accept immediate returns. Claims for shortages or mis-shipments must be made within 30 days of invoice date. Please provide invoice details on all claims. Credit will be issued, or damaged items replaced, immediately upon notification. Please email orders@akpress.org or call (510)208-1700.

MAGAZINES
Magazines/periodicals/journals are all available at a discount of 30%. Standing orders are available on ALL titles listed. Front cover returns are required on all titles and are accepted for up to one year. Please check with us for periodicity of each title.

FOREIGN ACCOUNTS
Payment should be made in US funds drawn on US bank. Any charges for foreign checks will be billed back to you. Unless you specify preferred method, all shipments are sent by cheapest available. Please specify!

DISTRIBUTION OF AK PRESS TITLES

TRADE INFORMATION 65
...I’m seeing rights being stripped more than cars in the ghetto
but folks like us are like dust that won’t settle the thorn in your side that will move with the tide and has never had any reason to hide so we ride...

—“Moot” by The N.O.M.A.D.S.
(from the book Poets for Palestine)

AK Press is a worker-run book publisher and distributor organized around anarchist principles.

AK draws on the rich history of folks from all over the planet and from all walks of life who have imagined, fought for, and actually achieved something better.
